The 2000 Nebraska Baseball Media Guide is designed to assist the media in its coverage of Husker baseball. Additional information, including releases, photographs and videotapes may be obtained by contacting the Nebraska Sports Information Office at (402) 472-2263. Please take a moment to review the following policies and services that are intended to assist you in your coverage of Nebraska baseball this season.

Media Credentials: All requests for press, broadcast, photo and parking credentials for Nebraska baseball home games should be directed to Aaron Babcock, Assistant Sports Information Director, P.O. Box 880123, 116 South Stadium, Lincoln, Neb., 68588-0123. Requests must be made in writing on appropriate letterhead at least one week before the game. Requests via fax are acceptable (see fax information below). As a general rule, working space is allocated on the following basis: (1) daily newspaper and wire-service writers covering for next-day publication; (2) radio and television personnel for broadcast origination; (3) sports editors of Nebraska daily newspapers; (4) official school student daily newspaper, one seat only; (5) approved special coverage; (6) press and TV working photographers. Limited space is available for weekly representatives, nationally accredited internet news services and non-originating radio representatives.

Media Will Call: Media passes that are not mailed may be picked up at the main entrance of Buck Beltzer Stadium. The gate opens 90 minutes before first pitch. Identification is required for credentials or tickets.

Media Parking: To request a parking pass please call Babcock or SID office manager Vicki Cartwright in the sports information office.

Buck Beltzer Directions: From Lincoln's Municipal Airport: Exit the airport on W. Adams Street, the main road leading out to Cornhusker Highway. Follow W. Adams Street to the first stoplight and turn right on Cornhusker Highway. Follow this and take a right on 14th Street. Go south until you reach Holdrege Street. Turn right on Holdrege to Stadium Drive. Take a left on Stadium Drive and an immediate left to reach the stadium. From Omaha's Eppley Airport: Exit the airport to the stoplight. Turn right onto Abbott Drive. Go approximately one mile to Storz Expressway (Abbott Drive turns into Storz Expressway). Proceed approximately three miles to I-480 South. Follow the signs and get onto I-80 West to Lincoln. Follow I-80 for about 60 miles and take the 27th Street Exit. Follow 27th Street south to Vine Street and turn right. Go west on Vine until you reach 14th Street. Take a right on 14th Street to Holdrege. Turn left on Holdrege Street to Stadium Drive, and then turn left on Stadium Drive and make an immediate left to reach the stadium.

Player Interviews: All media requests for interviews with Nebraska baseball players should be directed to Assistant SID Aaron Babcock (office phone: 402-472-2263), preferably 24 hours in advance. Players are usually available for telephone interviews early afternoons and evenings, except game days. The best time for in-season interviews is after practice at Buck Beltzer Stadium. With advance notice, interviews can be arranged for other hours.

Van Horn Interviews: The best time to reach Coach Dave Van Horn for interviews during the week is in the mornings, at (402) 472-2269. Practice will generally be held from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays. Postgame interviews with the coaches and players are conducted on the field following the final game of the day.

Postgame Interviews: The Nebraska postgame locker room is closed to the media at home games. For home games, NU players will be available following a brief cooling off period on the baseball field.

Media Services: The Nebraska baseball press box is located behind home plate at the top of the stadium. A telephone is provided in the press box and is available on a first-come first-serve basis, with collect or credit card access. The press box phone number is (402) 472-9171. A fax machine is available at the Sports Information Office (116 South Stadium) and requests should be made to Aaron Babcock before or during the game. A phone line is available for both home and visiting radios. Other media sources wishing to install an additional phone line should contact Ruth Michalecki, Director of University of Nebraska Telecommunications at (402) 472-2000. Pregame notes, programs and media guides will be provided before each game. Play-by-play sheets and final statistics will be distributed. Starting approximately 60 minutes before first pitch, refreshments will be served in the press box and a light meal will also be available to the media.

Radio/Television Broadcast Space: Requests for live radio and television broadcast space and credentials should be made to Aaron Babcock, Assistant Sports Information Director, 116 South Stadium, P.O. Box 880123, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0123, telephone (402) 472-2263. If statisticians are needed, please contact the SID Office at least five days in advance.

Broadcast Rights: The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and Pinnacle Sports Productions own exclusive radio broadcast rights to all of the University of Nebraska baseball games. Other than the Nebraska Sports Network and the University of Nebraska student station (KRNU), the only stations or networks that will be allowed to broadcast Nebraska games from Buck Beltzer Stadium are those that have rights to broadcast games played by the opposing team. All radio stations and networks broadcasting from Buck Beltzer Stadium must sign a contract with the University and are subject to a rights fee. Any representative of a radio station or network that has not purchased such rights shall not air live game action or description of any game while it is in progress, nor shall such representatives air tape-recorded or live commentary of Nebraska coaches or players for one hour before or 1/2 hour after a game. Only stations that have purchased broadcast rights may install telephones on press row, or use telephones on press row for reporting on games. By accepting media credentials, representatives of stations and networks that have not purchased broadcast rights signify their agreement to the above stipulations.

Media Information & Policies

Telephones: A telephone is provided in the press box and is available on a first-come first-serve basis, with collect or credit card access. The press box phone number is (402) 472-9171.

Broadcast Telephone Lines: Visiting radio stations are welcome to have their own telephone lines installed on press row and may do so by contacting University of Nebraska Telecommunications (402) 472-2000. However, Pinnacle Sports Productions installs telephone lines for visiting official broadcasts and charges a fee for the use of those lines for non-conference games (Big 12 official stations receive the use of the lines free of charge as part of a cooperative). Stations interested in using the lines should contact Mike Elliott of Pinnacle Sports Productions at (402) 430-7312.

Sports Information Office: The University of Nebraska Sports Information Office is located in Room 116 of the South Stadium Building, which is located at the south end of Memorial Stadium at Stadium Drive and T Streets. The South Stadium Building is approximately three blocks from Buck Beltzer Stadium.

Fax Access: The Nebraska Sports Information Office has an automatic facsimile machine that can transmit or receive documents. The phone number for the fax is (402) 472-2005. Following the game, and Sports Information Office personnel will send box scores free of charge as time permits. To access Fax-on-Demand, call (800) 300-2050. The Big 12 code is 1212, while Nebraska's release/game notes/statistics can be found under 1891 and the Huskers' most-recent box score under 1892. The Husker roster and schedule can be found under 1890. Box scores will be updated immediately after home games and as soon as possible on away games. Updated releases can also be received immediately via e-mail. To subscribe to this new service, visit www.mediateamlink.com and register for a free account from Pivotal Communications. This service will send you updated documents minutes after they have been updated or at a specified time, depending on your preference.

Husker Baseball on the Internet: Nebraska baseball information will be regularly updated on the Internet throughout the season. Notes, releases, biographies and updated statistics can all be found on the web. The Nebraska home page, live statistics and live and radio broadcasts can be accessed at huskerwebcast.com. The Big 12 Conference's official web site is located at big12sports.com.

The Nebraska Radio Network: Pinnacle Sports Productions is in its third year of producing live broadcasts of University of Nebraska sporting events, including baseball. Pinnacle began its contract with Nebraska in 1996-97 and the contract continues through 2000-2001. The contract includes exclusive radio broadcast rights to Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, baseball and volleyball.

Pinnacle heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, which allows Husker games to be heard statewide and in various areas of the United States. The games can also be heard live on the Internet by accessing Nebraska's home page at huskerwebcast.com. In addition to broadcasting Husker games, Pinnacle Sports also provides a daily, live call-in show focusing on NU athletics and other area sports.

KLIN Radio

Covering All The Bases of Nebraska Baseball

KLIN Radio: This season, KLIN Radio is scheduled to broadcast 43 Nebraska baseball games, the most in school history, with all 43 games tentatively scheduled to air on the Pinnacle Sports Network. The team of Jim Rose, John Baylor, Adrian Fiala and Gary Sharpe will follow the Huskers around the Big 12 broadcasting 27 of 30 league contests on KLIN 1400 am. The network games can be heard on either KKAR 1290 AM or ESPN 1620 AM in Omaha. Check with your local Pinnacle Sports affiliate to find out if they will be carrying Husker baseball games. Air time for each game is 10 minutes before the scheduled first pitch leading off with the Dave Van Horn pre-game show.

Notes on the 2000 Schedule

* Seven of Nebraska's 2000 opponents were ranked in the 2000 Collegiate Baseball Top 40 poll, voted on by NCAA Division I coaches - No. 7 Rice, No. 12 Texas, No. 16 Baylor, No. 18 Texas Tech, No. 21 Texas A&M, No. 23 Oklahoma State and No. 32 Arkansas. Nebraska rounds out the group of Big 12 schools, ranked 39th.

*The 2000 campaign marks the fifth season of Big 12 baseball. A year ago, six of 11 league schools advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Those teams were Nebraska, Texas A&M, Baylor, Texas Tech, Oklahoma State and Texas.

*The Huskers enter their 2000 slate sporting a 37-9 record at home during Head Coach Dave Van Horn's tenure, including a run of four straight to close out the 1999 season. Nebraska posted a record of 209-73 at Buck Beltzer Stadium during the 1990s. Nebraska which is entering its final season at Buck Beltzer Stadium, has an all-time record of 479-129 (.786) at the stadium.

* Against Big 12 schools, Nebraska owns a record of 590-667-3 (.468). Van Horn owns a record of 36-28 against Big 12 schools, and has a winning record over all but three schools (Missouri, Oklahoma State and Texas A&M).

* Nine of Nebraska's 2000 opponents reached the 1999 NCAA Tournament, including three that reached the College World Series (Texas A&M, Oklahoma State and Rice). Those nine teams combined to compile a record of 25-20 in NCAA play. Only one of those nine teams (Creighton) that qualified for the 1999 NCAA Tournament failed to win at least one tournament game. Last year's team went 12-6 against teams that qualified for the NCAA Tournament, including a 4-2 mark against CWS teams (1-0 vs. Baylor, 3-1 vs. Oklahoma State, 0-1 vs. Rice).

* This season, the Huskers are slated to play 22 games against teams that qualified for last year's NCAA Tournament, including, seven games against last year's CWS participants (three vs. Oklahoma State, three vs. Baylor, one vs. Rice).

The Cornhusker Legend

Before 1900, Nebraska football teams were known by such names as the Old Gold Knights, Antelopes and the Bugeaters. But in 1900, Lincoln sportswriter Charles S. (Cy) Sherman, who was to gain national renown as the sports editor of the Lincoln Star and help originate the Associated Press football poll, tired of referring to the Nebraska teams with such an unglamorous term as Bugeaters. Iowa had from time to time, been called the Cornhuskers, and the name appealed to Sherman. Iowa partisans seemed to prefer Hawkeyes, so Sherman started referring to the Nebraska team as Cornhuskers and the 1900 team was the first to bear that label. Of course, the name caught on and became a Nebraska byword, eventually becoming the official nickname for the state and all athletic teams. The cartoon character, "Herbie Husker" evolved out of Nebraska's trip to the 1974 Cotton Bowl in Dallas. Artist Dirk West of Lubbock, Texas, designed a Cornhusker cartoon for the Cotton Bowl press headquarters that caught the eye of former Nebraska SID Don Bryant. In the fall of 1993, the athletic department unveiled a block N logo with a script "Huskers." Herbie, the block N logo and the Nebraska volleyball logo are registered trademarks of the Athletic Department.

Office of Athletic Compliance

As a member of the Big 12 Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the University of Nebraska is responsible for insuring that its coaches, student-athletes, faculty and staff, boosters and friends abide with conference and NCAA regulations. The purpose of this information is to inform you of guidelines and regulations that may affect your involvement with Husker student-athletes and prospective student-athletes. This is not a comprehensive list of all conference and NCAA rules. Feel free to contact the Nebraska Athletic Compliance Office if a question or concern arises.

Are you an Athletic Representative?

You are considered to be a booster or representative of Nebraska's athletic interests if you:

- Are, or have been, a member of a Nebraska booster organization.
- Have made donations or financial contribution to the Nebraska athletic department or booster club.
- Are, or have been, involved in arranging summer employment for enrolled student-athletes.
- Are, or have been, assisting in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes.
- Are, or have been, involved in promoting the University of Nebraska athletics program in any way.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an Athletic Representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely.

Who is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A prospective student-athlete (recruit) is any student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior college. In addition, any student who has officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plans to transfer to another institution is also considered to be a recruit.

A prospective student-athlete remains a prospect even after verbally committing to or signing a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska until he/she reports for regular team practice or attends the first day of classes in any regular term.

What is contact?

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and an institutional staff member or athletic representative, during which any dialogue occurs in excess of an exchange or greeting. Written or telephonic communications are also considered types of contacts. A booster may not contact a prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.

What is an Evaluation?

An evaluation is any off-campus activity designed to assess the academic qualifications or athletic ability of a prospect. Each sport has different limitations on the number of times a coach may visit a high school or observe a prospect in practice or competition.

What is Recruiting?

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation on a Husker intercollegiate athletics team.

When can a coach begin to write a prospective student-athlete?

Letters from coaches and faculty members are not permitted until September 1, at the beginning of a prospect's junior year in high school. The NCAA also places limitations on the types of information that may be sent to a prospect. Permissible types of recruiting materials include general correspondence, academic and admission materials, NCAA educational information, questionnaires, camp brochures and one sport media guide. Boosters are not allowed to write a prospect.

When can a coach telephone a prospective student-athlete?

Permissible telephone calls vary per sport. Football is allowed to make one call during the month of May of a prospect's junior year in high school. Additional calls may not occur before September 1, or the prospect's senior year. In men's and women's basketball, one call may be made on or after June 21, of the prospect's junior year in high school with three more calls allowed during the month of July. All other sports may not telephone a prospect until July 1, of the prospect's junior year in high school. Football, basketball and all other sports may not call a prospect more than one time per week unless exceptions are allowed by NCAA legislation.

Furthermore, a prospect may call a Husker coach at any time when the prospect is personally paying for the call. The use of collect calls or toll-free calls to a coach may not occur until July 1, of the prospect's junior year in high school. A prospect may call a booster but a booster may not call a prospect. A booster must refer any questions about Nebraska athletics to the Athletic Department.

Who is a Student-Athlete?

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interest with the intent of the student becoming a participating member of a Husker athletic team.

What is an Extra Benefit?

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by a Nebraska institutional employee or booster to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Examples of special arrangements or extra benefits that are not permissible by NCAA rules include but are not limited to:

- Providing cash or loans in any amount.
- Signing or co-signing for a loan as well as guaranteeing bail or bond.
- Giving gifts of any kind, including birthday and holiday gifts.
- Providing use of an automobile.
- Providing rent-free or reduced-rent housing.
- Providing tickets to an athletic, institutional or community event.
- Providing academic course supplies, typing services or duplication costs.
- Providing entertainment for a prospect or the prospect's family.
- Promising financial aid for postgraduate education.
- Providing an honorarium to a student-athlete for a speaking arrangement.

Please remember to ask before you act. Call the Nebraska Athletic Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042 for answers to your questions and concerns regarding NCAA rules and regulations. Your telephone call may prevent the loss of eligibility for a Husker student-athlete.

Buck Beltzer Stadium

The 2000 season marks the Nebraska baseball team's 22nd at Buck Beltzer Stadium, and most likely, the last.

Plans to build one of the best collegiate baseball stadiums in the country will bring an end to an era, as Buck Beltzer Stadium prepares to host its final season of Husker baseball. The University of Nebraska will share its new stadium with a Northern League baseball team that is slated to begin competition in Lincoln in the summer of 2001.

Officially dedicated in 1979 as Buck Beltzer Field, the stadium has grown into a quality baseball facility.

In those 22 years, NU has a record of 479-129 (a winning percentage of .786) in home contests. "The Buck" is a place where the Huskers have had great success and where opposing teams have struggled to find a way to win.

Buck Beltzer Stadium has seen its share of changes. In 1977, the Husker Diamond, the name of the stadium prior to 1979, had an artificial playing surface, permanent seating and covered dugouts installed to upgrade the facility.

Then in the spring of 1979, the official baseball site of the University of Nebraska since the mid 1940's, was renamed Buck Beltzer Field when a generous donation from the Beltzer family (Jim of Grand Island and Mrs. Bob Flory of Fremont) made the rest of the development of the stadium (aluminum seats, press box, restrooms and concession stands) possible. The stadium received its name from O.A. "Buck" Beltzer, a well-known Husker athlete, and Grand Island businessman.

For the first year, the stadium had a seating capacity of less than 1,000, but expanded to 1,500 in two years.

NU baptized the stadium winning the first game over Missouri Western 13-3 on March 11. In fact, the Huskers went on to win their first 12 games at home before losing to Fort Hayes State, 5-4, on April 12. The Huskers finished their first season at home with an impressive 28-2 mark.

In 1980, the year began for NU with an even more beautiful facility. A total of 1,500 aluminum seats in the main grandstand were installed, the present seating capacity of the stadium, to make the facility more enjoyable for everyone. The Huskers enjoyed the friendly confines of beautiful Buck Beltzer going 29-1 losing only to Missouri on April 25. NU began the home season by winning its first 22 games.

The stadium's official dedication came on May 2, 1980 when former Major League pitcher Tim Burke led Nebraska to a 2-1 victory over Kansas in the first game of a doubleheader. NU went on to win game two, and the next day, Cliff Faust tossed a perfect game against the Jayhawks as the Huskers completed a four-game sweep by winning 3-0 and 10-8. Oklahoma handed NU its first loss at Buck Beltzer Stadium with a 5-2 win on April 4, 1981.

Also in 1981, a generous donation by the Californians for Nebraskans Booster Club led to the installation of a new scoreboard.

The Huskers had continued success at home and even more facility improvements were made.

New Astro Turf was installed in 1983. And in 1984, the addition of the Baumann Baseball Building made Buck Beltzer Stadium a complete place to have a successful baseball program.

During the 1989 season, lights were installed, thanks to another donation by Californians for Nebraska. NU won the first-ever night game at Buck Beltzer Stadium beating Iowa State, 3-2, in the second game of a doubleheader on May 12. That game also marked former Head Coach John Sanders' 500th win for the Huskers. The lights were officially dedicated on May 5, 1990, almost 10 years after the official dedication of the stadium.

A state-of-the-art sound system was added in 1994 with the help of a donation by the Sower's Club. The artificial turf was upgraded for a third time before the 1997 season.

While all the improvements have been made, the Huskers have kept their winning ways at the Buck alive by averaging 23 wins a season, compared to only six losses.

NU set to follow banner season with brighter 2000 finish

After last season's banner season, you would expect to find Nebraska's 1999 Big 12 Tournament championship trophy proudly displayed in the trophy case inside the Nebraska baseball offices.

Better keep looking.

Instead, NU players stowed that beautiful trophy away in a corner of Head Coach Dave Van Horn's office.

Why?

The 2000 Huskers have set their sights even higher than their impressive 1999 championship season that saw Nebraska post a 42-18 record, win its first conference championship in 49 seasons and advance to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1985.

"Last year was an exciting year," Van Horn said, who begins his third season at Nebraska. "But that was last year. We had high expectations a year ago, but we have even higher expectations this season. Our goal is not to make an NCAA regional tournament every couple of years. We want to be there every year, advance to a Super Regional and qualify for the College World Series. When people think of great baseball programs, we want them to think of Nebraska. You do that by turning out great players every year and consistently having good teams."

While the Huskers lose First-Team All-America first baseman Ken Harvey, a finalist for several national player-of-the-year awards, Nebraska returns six starting position players and three starting pitchers.

"Obviously, it's difficult to replace a player like Kenny," Van Horn said. "He's a very special player. But we feel like we have a deeper pitching staff than last year's team and better all-around balance. We're still young, but most of the sophomores have started 40-50 games, so we have a lot of experience back."

Nebraska returns 17 letterwinners, led by a talented batch of sophomores and some key upperclassmen. Throw in some dynamite junior college transfers and the Huskers appear poised to make some noise, not only in the Big 12, but on a national level.

This year's team may look a little different in its style of play, as Van Horn adjusts the game to fit his players.

"We'll probably run a little more, hit and run more, manufacture runs and utilize our alley power," Van Horn said. "We're not going to go in looking to hit balls out of the park. We have a better pitching staff, a true outfield and an infield as good as anybody's."

Senior center fielder Jamal Strong will anchor the Husker outfield and give the Huskers a threat on the bases after stealing 34 bases in 1999.

Pitchers

Nebraska pitchers set a school record with 438 strikeouts last season and lost just one starting pitcher, Jay Sirianni, to graduation. The future on the mound is incredibly bright as the coaching staff feels they have one their best pitching staff ever, with six potential starting pitchers than can compete with any team in the Big 12.

Right-handed sophomore pitcher Shane Komine, the 1999 Big 12 Newcomer of the Year, leads the way after establishing himself as NU's top righty as a true freshman when he was named to Collegiate Baseball's First-Team Freshman All-America Team. The Honolulu, Hawaii, native made 18 appearances, despite being slowed by back problems, had a team-best 3.58 earned run average and compiled a 6-2 record. He struck out a team-high 79 batters in 78 innings, including a season-high 16 in relief against Iowa State. He is in great shape and appears to be past his nagging back injury which slowed him last season.

Chad Wiles, a senior from Wood River, Neb., is another solid starter that had a strong finish in 1999. The only NU senior to begin his career at Nebraska, he has an 8-4 career record and 85 career strikeouts. He is coming off the best season of his career, compiling a 5-1 record and a 4.01 ERA. He ended the 1999 season in dramatic fashion, tossing a one-hitter against No. 17 Oklahoma State in the Big 12 Tournament opener, handing OSU its first postseason shutout since 1976. He then closed out NU's Big 12 championship by earning his first career save in the title game against No. 9 Baylor. More importantly, the Huskers went 12-2 in his 14 appearances.

Sophomore R.D. Spies, another hard-throwing right-hander, also gained valuable experience as a freshman. He threw 56 innings for Nebraska and went 5-1, making a Nebraska freshman-record 23 appearances. He had a 6.27 ERA and struck out 43 batters, but like NU's top pitchers got better as the season went on, posting wins over No. 4 Texas A&M in the Big 12 Tournament semifinals. He carried his momentum into the NCAA Tournament, defeating Bowling Green in Columbus, Ohio. After a solid offseason of conditioning, Spies is ready to pick up where he left off.

On the left side of the mound, Nebraska sports a new look. Senior Scott Fries returns for Nebraska, but he is joined by a pair of newcomers that are ready to give Van Horn one of NU's best all-around pitching staff in recent history. Fries was Nebraska's top starter for most of the 1999 season, pitching 100.2 innings and posting an 8-7 record. He started 17 games and carried a 6.79 ERA against the toughest teams on the NU schedule. Performances like his 14-strikeout effort against Kansas last season will not allow him to sneak up on anybody this year.

Nebraska returners aim for defense of Big 12 championship

Van Horn added a pair of new lefties to the roster in freshman Jamie Rodrigue and senior Trevor Bullock. Rodrigue is a hard-throwing freshman from St. Clair, Mo., who should challenge for immediate time on the mound. He throws between 85 and 88 mph and struck out 138 batters in 80 innings as a senior in high school and hopes to carry his success into the collegiate ranks.

Bullock is a fifth-year senior that joins the Huskers after four seasons at Division II Nebraska-Kearney. The Lincoln Southeast grad was granted an extra season of eligibility after missing much of his freshman year with an injury. He gives the Huskers an experienced hurler on the mound after leading the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference with a 1.64 ERA in 1999.

Pitching coach Rob Childress' bullpen will be just as dangerous, with Andy Bent, a transfer from Cloud County Community College, slated as the closer. He is an aggressive pitcher who knows what it takes to put opponents away. Other pitchers that return for the Huskers include lefties Brandon Penas, Waylon Byers, Brian Rodaway and right-handers Steve Hale and Dave Schneider, all of whom pitched valuable innings for the Huskers last season. Freshman Adrian Rider will also figure into the mix.

Infield

Nebraska had a solid infield last season, but Van Horn solidified the defense with a few key additions and some position changes. Nebraska's top returner is John Cole. A sophomore, Cole will start at second base as well as playing in left field. He was tabbed a third-team preseason All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association after a tremendous freshman season, hitting .396 as a rookie and was a perfect 15-for-15 on stolen-base attempts.

Sophomore Will Bolt moves to shortstop after starting 55 games at second base as a true freshman. He hit .278 and set an NU freshman record with a 16-game hitting streak. His offensive skills made great strides during the offseason and he will team with Cole to give Nebraska one of the best middle infields in the Big 12 Conference. Josh Hesse, an Omaha native who joins the Huskers after playing at Meridian (Miss.) Community College, is an outstanding defensive player and will be a utility infielder. He hit .330 last season, and adds another outstanding glove in the Husker infield.

Harvey's position at first base will be filled by one of four candidates. Junior transfer Dan Wright is a prime candidate to take over the starting job. Wright, a transfer from Dixie (Utah) Community College, was a NJCAA First-Team All-American, hitting .443 and cranking out 21 home runs last season. He will battle with senior Jim Bailey, a lefty from British Columbia and freshman Matt Hopper, for the starting job. Bailey will likely play most games against right-handed pitchers after starting five of the last six games and earning All-Regional Tournament honors at third last season. Hopper had an outstanding preseason and could see significant time after redshirting last season.

Senior Brandt Vlieger is also making a defensive change. After starting 55 games at shortstop, Vlieger will play third base this season. Vlieger broke his ankle during the fall season, but has worked hard to rehab and should be near 100 percent by opening day. He hit .348, scoring 48 runs and driving in another 41. He is also a threat to steal after swiping 16 bases in his first season with NU.

Outfield

Nebraska's outfield sports an incredible array of speed, experience and offensive prowess. Senior Jamal Strong will anchor center field, with Cole holding down left field, and senior Adam Shabala in right field. The three outfielders combined for 77 of Nebraska's 144 stolen bases last season, including a team-high 34 from Strong. Cole made a name for himself in left field after snagging the game-winning catch in the Big 12 championship to vault the Huskers into the NCAA Tournament. Sophomore Adam Stern will be the top reserve in left and center after seeing action 38 games last season. An outstanding runner, he is a solid defensive threat that sports power at the plate as well.

Strong, a native of Altadena, Calif., earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors as a junior. He hit .346, scored 66 runs and reached base in 48 of 53 games. His 34 stolen bases was the most by a Husker since 1988. He started 50 games and hit a team-high four triples. He also committed just one error in the outfield in 112 chances.

Shabala also has a knack of reaching base. He started 45 games and hit .373 as junior and stole 28 bases, even though he was slowed for nearly a month with a knee injury. He had the second-best on-base percentage among NU starters (.496), drawing a team-high 41 walks. He will be backed up by Omaha native Jeff Leise, a freshman that could push for a platoon spot in the outfield.

Junior Dan Johnson will split time between the DH spot in the lineup and left field. He will be a major threat in the lineup, after hitting .356 and hitting 18 home runs as a sophomore at Iowa Western.

Catcher

Senior Justin Cowan will be the Huskers' primary receiver this season. One of eight seniors, Cowan started 18 games at the backstop position behind Kansas City draftee Brian Johnson and is an outstanding stopper. The Tumwater, Wash., native has a great arm and dominating presence at the plate. Last year's starting right fielder, Cowan hit .312 with a team-high 21 doubles to go along with nine home runs. He overcame a sluggish start to hit .421 in his final 10 games, five of which were against nationally ranked teams. He started a team-high 57 games last season and will be called on again to do the same this year at catcher and designated hitter.

Cowan's relief will come from freshman Aaron Gozart, another Washington native. A graduate of Aberdeen High School, Gozart will likely start mid-week games as well as relieving Cowan in late innings. An outstanding athlete, Gozart hit .535 and was named the MVP of the North Rivers League as a prepster. Stern could also be called on to work behind the plate, if necessary.

Schedule

Nebraska's road to the NCAA Tournament won't be an easy one, as nine of NU's opponents played in the NCAA tourney last year, including three that played in the College World Series (Oklahoma State, Texas A&M and Rice), giving NU 22 contests against NCAA qualifiers. However, the Huskers gained valuable experience against the nation's best teams in 1999, posting a 12-6 regular-season record against teams that qualified for the tournament and a 4-2 record against teams that advanced the College World Series. To make things even tougher, Nebraska won't play its first home series until March 17.

But Van Horn feels that such a tough schedule will pay off at the end of the season.

"We open up with 17 of our first 18 games on the road," Van Horn said. "That's difficult, but we want to reach elite status and you do that by playing tough competition."

Nebraska opens the season in Houston, Texas, at the Marriott West Loop Rice Classic where the Huskers will face Northwestern State, top-10 Rice and Arkansas State. Van Horn will open the season against Northwestern State, where he compiled a 106-65 record in three seasons as head coach. The Huskers will then compete in the Arlington Morning News Invitational and face Arkansas, Van Horn's alma mater, host Texas-Arlington and Washington State.

Nebraska will then face Texas-San Antonio for a three-game road series before opening the Big 12 season at Oklahoma State, a 1999 CWS participant. The Huskers spend spring break on the road, playing a three-game series against Kansas State and a two-game series at Arkansas. Nebraska's home conference schedule will open with Oklahoma and will also include Texas Tech, Kansas, Texas A&M and Iowa State.

Van Horn, who is 37-9 at home in two years, also has non-conference games scheduled against Nebraska-Omaha, North Dakota State, Northwest Missouri State, Creighton, Western Illinois, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Northern Iowa and Fresno State to give the Huskers 56 regular season games.

With Van Horn's exciting brand of baseball and possibly one of the deepest teams in Nebraska's history, the 2000 Huskers are geared up to open the 21st century by proving last year's impressive season wasn't a one-time thing - instead it was the foundation for building one of the nation's top baseball programs.

Dave Van Horn has quickly established himself as one of the most competitive coaches in collegiate baseball after leading the Huskers to their best season in nearly 50 years. Van Horn enters his third year at Nebraska after guiding Nebraska to a 42-18 record last season that culminated with a Big 12 Conference Tournament title and an NCAA Tournament appearance. The Big 12 title was Nebraska's first conference title since 1950, while NU's regional bid was the first since 1985. Nebraska finished the season fifth in the Big 12 regular season, compiling a school-best 16-9 record in Big 12 play.

Van Horn, who owns a 172-103 record at the Division I ranks, has compiled a 66-38 mark in two seasons at Nebraska.

Nebraska peaked at the perfect time in 1999, closing out the season on a nine-game winning streak to earn a regional bid. The Huskers opened up with an 18-14 loss to Mississippi State in the first game, before bouncing back to defeat Bowling Green, 10-5, the next day. In the elimination game, Nebraska fell again to Mississippi State, 13-7, to close out one of the most memorable seasons in Nebraska baseball history.

Nebraska finished the season ranked 25th in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll, marking the first time in at least 20 years a Husker team finished in the top 25.

Van Horn also coached one of the top players in the collegiate ranks in first baseman Ken Harvey. Harvey, a first-team All-American, led the nation in batting with a .478 average, while pumping out a school-record 23 home runs. Harvey was named one of three finalists for the Rotary Smith Award and one of five finalists for the Golden Spikes Award. Both awards are given to the nation's top collegiate baseball player. Harvey was also honored for his defense, as he earned Collegiate Baseball's Easton Redline Defensive Player-of-the-Year Award after committing just two errors in more than 400 attempts. Harvey signed with the Kansas City Royals after being drafted in the fifth round as the 151st selection.

Van Horn had remarkable success in his first season at the helm of the Huskers, as NU finished 24-20, seventh in the powerful Big 12 Conference. The seventh-place finish was a marked improvement from a 10th-place spot in 1997.

Van Horn, who is the Huskers' third coach in the last 53 years, inherited the 1998 squad just 35 days before the start of the regular season and proved his knack for winning could continue at Nebraska. In his first season, the Huskers won six games against ranked foes, defeating Texas A&M, Texas Tech (twice) and sweeping three games from then-10th-ranked Oklahoma. It was the first sweep of the Sooners by NU since 1987. The sweep was Nebraska's first in conference play since 1994.

But Van Horn's instant success shouldn't have come as a surprise considering his previous success as a player and a coach.

Van Horn has coached his teams to an average of 40 wins a season and has won fewer than 35 games only twice in his 12 seasons as a head coach.

When Van Horn was hired, Nebraska Director of Athletics

Van Horn enters the 2000 season looking for his 250th Division I win and 100th Nebraska victory.

Bill Byrne said he was thrilled to have such a high-standing individual lead the Huskers into the 21st Century.

"When we started looking for a coach, of course we checked all around the United States, and consistently, there was one man's name who kept coming up," Byrne said. "His name was Dave Van Horn. People talked about his ability to make sure that his athletes have a great experience. They talked about his competitiveness. They talked about the great fundamental traits that he instills and they talked about the fact that they consider him one of the rising superstars of college baseball."

Van Horn's success at other levels has brought a newfound excitement and attitude surrounding the Husker baseball program. Although he was hired just one month before the 1998 season opener at Minnesota, Van Horn turned Nebraska into a team that was in contention to qualify for the Big 12 Tournament going into the season's final week.

Previously, at Northwestern State in Natchitoches, Louisiana, Van Horn compiled a three-year record of 106-65 (.620 winning percentage). The Demons won the regular-season Southland Conference title in 1995 and 1997 by winning a conference-record 19 games in league play in each year. For his efforts, Van Horn was named the Southland Conference's Coach of the Year two times in three years. In 1997, the Demons finished the year 35-23 before losing to Southwest Texas State in the conference tournament. NSU had defeated SWTSU three times in the regular season. Southwest Texas State went on to win two games in the NCAA regionals, including a win over Big 12 power Texas Tech.

In 1996, Van Horn led an inexperienced squad to a 34-27 record and a second-place finish. The season was highlighted by two wins over national champion Louisiana State. The Demons beat the

His first season at the Division I school was a big-time success. The Demons were 37-15, as Van Horn earned Southland Coach-of-the-Year honors. NSU was a preseason pick to finish fourth in the nine-team league, but won the conference crown.

Van Horn also stresses success for his student-athletes in the classroom. During his tenure at Northwestern State, nearly 100 percent of the student-athletes who completed their eligibility earned an undergraduate degree.

Before moving to the Division I level in 1995, Van Horn had a stellar year at Division II Central Missouri State. He took the Mules' job in December and with six weeks until the season opener, his team was ready for the 1994 campaign. Central Missouri State started the season winning 12 of the first 13 games and the momentum built from there. CMSU eventually won 21 straight games at one point in 1994.

The Mules won the MIAA Conference title, compiling a 15-1 record in division play before winning the tournament title. His team won the Central Regional title by defeating Northern Colorado and South Dakota State (twice). Van Horn was named the Central Region Coach of the Year as CMSU advanced to the NCAA Division II Championship.

At Montgomery, Ala., site of the Division II National Championships, the Mules were seeded second out of eight teams. Central Missouri State won the first two games before losing to Delta State in the double elimination tournament. The Mules bounced back with an 8-2 win over Delta State and won the NCAA Division II title by beating Florida Southern 14-9.

CMSU ended the season with a 51-11 record, setting school records for wins (51) and winning percentage (.823). Van Horn was named the ABCA Division II National Coach of the Year.

Central Missouri State honored Van Horn this year, as he was inducted into the ninth class of the Central Missouri State Hall of Fame on Feb. 12, 1999 along with his entire 1994 squad.

Prior to coaching one season at Central Missouri State, Van Horn served as the head coach at Texarkana Community College for five seasons from 1989 to 1993. In his first season, the Bulldogs set a school record with 39 wins. The next three years the Bulldogs surpassed that total by winning 44, 45 and 48 games, respectively. In 1992, Texarkana finished 48-10 and was first in the NJCAA Texas Eastern Conference. In 1993, Texarkana finished with a 38-18 mark.

Before becoming a head coach, Van Horn was an assistant at Arkansas, helping the Razorbacks to two College World Series appearances (1985 and 1987). The Razorbacks finished third in the 1985 CWS and fifth in 1988. Arkansas was 184-72 and made the NCAA Regional Tournament in each of the four seasons that Van Horn assisted Coach Norm DeBriyn.

On the diamond, Van Horn was a successful player as well. After an impressive career at Arkansas, he was chosen in the 10th round of the 1982 draft by the Atlanta Braves. He went on to spend three seasons in the Braves organization.

At Arkansas, Van Horn was an All-Southwest Conference infielder in 1982. He was the team's MVP and was selected as the SWC's Newcomer of the Year in his junior campaign.

He spent two successful seasons at McLennan Community College before heading to Fayetteville. In 1980, the Highlanders finished third at the NJCAA College World Series. Van Horn was an all-conference and all-region third baseman as a freshman. He also made the NJCAA All-Tournament team. In 1981, McLennan again advanced to the Junior College World Series and finished fourth. Van Horn was named a first-team All-American and was the Region 5 Player of the Year. He was drafted at the conclusion of his junior college career by the Chicago White Sox, but elected to transfer to Arkansas.

Van Horn has also worked and been in charge of coordinating dozens of camps since 1984. At Nebraska, he operated a nine-session winter camp and was in charge of nine daily camps throughout Nebraska and Iowa in the summer. He also led the winter and summer camps at Northwestern State for four years. While at Texarkana, he was the school's athletic director and helped organize a baseball camp from 1989 to 1992. While at Arkansas, he worked winter and summer camps in 1986 and 1987, and was part of the coaches' clinics from 1984 to 1986.

He is a member of the American Baseball Coaches Association. Van Horn served as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Baseball Coaches committee in 1999.

Van Horn and his wife Karen have two daughters, Hollan (6) and Mariel (2).

A Conversation with Dave Van Horn

Q: What do you enjoy most about coaching at Nebraska?

A: It's a combination of so many things. Mostly it's the tradition and outstanding support staff - all the way from the athletic director to our academic advisors and equipment managers. The coaches and athletes receive so much help and that creates a very positive environment. I also enjoy coaching in the Big 12 Conference. It's a well-known conference on the national level.

Q: What would you list as your most memorable moments during your NU coaching career?

A: I've only been at Nebraska for two short seasons, but we've had some pretty exciting things happen during that time. In our first season I enjoyed watching our team get better from game to game. That year we also swept Oklahoma, which was a big step for our program. We also beat Texas A&M's No. 1 pitcher on a Friday night with a base hit in the bottom of the ninth inning.

Last year, it was great watching the team improve again, but the sweep over Texas at home was particularly sweet. Naturally, winning the Big 12 with three wins over ranked teams and another win over an in-state Oklahoma team, in Oklahoma City, was one of the greatest highlights of my coaching career.

I've also enjoyed coaching great players like Ken Harvey and watching him win the NCAA batting title as well as watching his great defense day in and day out. Helping design our new ballpark so that it's a first-class stadium has been very exciting. Since all the coaches are former players, we have a good feel for what the players want and need.

Q: What is your coaching philosophy?

A: I believe that you have to be grounded in your roots, but be flexible enough to change with the types of teams you have, so you can adjust with different stadiums, bats and other parts of the game. My roots are to recruit great athletes that are not one-dimensional. We want a guy that can beat you in more than one way, not just hitting, for example. We are also looking for athletes that have good attitudes and believe in the team concept. We spend a lot of time getting to know our athletes when we are recruiting them.

Q: What do you look for in the Nebraska recruit?

A: We look for athletes that are mentally tough. We recruit kids that are good people, because we spend so much time together in practice, in hotels and at meals, that we need a close-knit team. It makes it more fun and you win more games. We also want recruits to be academically motivated.

We understand that some kids will perform better than others, but kids that do well in the classroom, typically are more consistent on the field. College days go by fast, we want them to get their degree. When a business is recruiting our future graduates, they are looking for well-rounded, dedicated, hard-working individuals that will be successful at anything they do. We also like to have athletes that have a goal to play professional baseball, so they will work hard toward that goal.

Q: Nebraska has made great strides in the past two seasons. What is your vision for Nebraska baseball?

A: Our whole objective is to have a good program. We want to have a good team every year and keep turning out great players. I want to see us battle for championships, both conference and regional, and compete in the College World Series. We want to be known as an outstanding program that turns out players to the pro's. Obviously, every program wants to be a top 10 program, but if you're one of the top five or six teams in the Big 12, you're going to be ranked.

Q: When you are recruiting a potential student-athlete, what are Nebraska's selling points?

A: I think the people you meet, the support you receive and the facilities are what makes Nebraska such a great place. The support staff includes coaches, fans, academic advisors, strength coaches, nutritionists, athletic trainers and sports information personnel. All those people try to help the student-athlete become the best person and student they can possibly be. The facilities are incredible - from our future stadium, to our training rooms and weight rooms, to the Hewitt Center. Our fans are great. They are loyal and they will support you as long as you go hard and give 100 percent. They are knowledgeable about the game and classy at the same time.

Q: How important will the new baseball stadium be to Nebraska baseball?

A: I think it's very important if you want to be competitive year in and year out. We are building one of the top 10 facilities in the country, so that should help us keep the Midwest's top athletes here - that's big. Our players deserve to play in a top facility. This will give us a place that Nebraska baseball players will be proud to say "I play at Nebraska." It will be a fan-friendly environment, it should improve our fan base and attendance. It will give fans the opportunity to make it a weekend adventure to come to Lincoln and watch a Big 12 baseball series.

Q: What will be the keys for this year's team to compete for a Big 12 and NCAA championship?

A: First of all, we need to keep our team healthy. We had some nagging injuries in the fall that have plagued us for awhile. Our pitching is a lot deeper, but we need our top two or three pitchers to get deep into the game. Our players need to have a team concept. That means some have to thrive as starters and others as role players. Most of all, our players will need to go hard every day.

Assistant Coach Mike Anderson

Mike Anderson begins his sixth season as a member of the Huskers' coaching staff in 2000. Anderson's main duties for this year include working as the hitting instructor, working with outfielders and leading the team's academic efforts.

Anderson has been a great asset to the Nebraska baseball program since his arrival in 1994. He has coached nine players who have signed professional baseball contracts, most notably, Darin Erstad, the No. 1 pick in the 1995 Major League Baseball Draft by the Anaheim Angels. Anderson also helped develop the best hitter in collegiate baseball last season, as Ken Harvey led Division I hitters with a .478 batting average, while hitting a school record 23 home runs. Harvey, a first-team All-American, was drafted in the fifth round by the Kansas City Royals. Brian Johnson was the second Husker drafted last season, going in the 24th round to Kansas City. Other professional players Anderson has helped groom include Todd Sears, Jed Dalton, Mel Motley, Francis Collins, Bryan Schmidt and Matt Meyer.

In his supervision of the Huskers' academic efforts, the Huskers have placed 20 players on the first-team all-conference squad since 1994, including a Big 12 record five players who earned academic All-Big 12 honors last spring.

Last year, outfielder Eric Mumm became the first Husker to earn first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, while Brandt Vlieger was named to the Academic All-America District VII team. Mumm, a native of Kearney, graduated with a 3.84 grade-point average in mechanical engineering, while Vlieger sports a 3.25 GPA in social sciences. It was the second consecutive year Nebraska had an academic All-American. Matt Schultdt was a second-team pick in 1998. Prior to Anderson's arrival, Nebraska had just five academic All-Americans in school history.

Anderson's contributions have not been limited to the classroom. He has steadily helped Nebraska become one of the top offensive teams in the Big 12. The first season following his arrival, NU raised its batting average to .323, a 65-point increase over 1994. The Huskers also belted 72 home runs, 21 more than the previous year and the most since 1990. Since the 1995 season, the Huskers have averaged 484 runs scored, 58 home runs, 635 hits, 125 doubles and had a batting average of .318 a season. In 1995 and 1997, NU set a school-record with 144 doubles in each season. Nebraska has had better than 100 doubles and 40 home runs in each season Anderson has been with the Huskers. Last year's team finished with a .338 batting average, the second highest batting average in school history, and just two points shy of breaking the all-time record set in 1985. The .338 average was also the top season batting average among Big 12 schools, while the Huskers hit .316 against Big 12 opponents, the third-best mark in the conference. The 1999 squad also finished with a .532 slugging percentage and 1,159 total bases, the second-best single-season marks in school history.

Assisting the outfielders, Anderson has coached one All-American and three all-conference selections. Last year, Jamal Strong earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors, while John Cole was named to the Big 12 All-Tournament team. Cole and Strong were both named to the all-region team. Under Anderson's direction, Erstad earned first-team All-Big Eight and first-team All-America honors in 1995. Francis Collins was a member of the first-team All-Big 12 squad in 1997.

Before arriving in Lincoln in the fall of 1994, Anderson was the top assistant coach at the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley, Colo. He joined the Bears' staff after four years as a head coach with the UNC Lab School.

Along with his collegiate coaching experience, Anderson has worked as a camp instructor for Greg Riddoch's Major League Baseball School and Tom Runnells' Pro Clinics. Both Riddoch and Runnells managed in the major leagues. Anderson also spent two years as a scout for the Toronto Blue Jays.

From 1983 through 1986, Anderson was an outfielder at Northern Colorado and was an eighth-round pick by the California Angels. He spent three seasons with the Angels.

Mike Anderson has helped Nebraska become one of the top hitting teams in the Big 12 Conference.

Assistant Coach Rob Childress

One of the biggest assets Coach Dave Van Horn brought to Lincoln with him two years ago was his assistant coach from Northwestern State, Rob Childress. The day after Van Horn was chosen as the Huskers' coach last season, Childress decided to follow Van Horn to Nebraska ensuring that the Husker pitching staff would be in good hands.

While Childress, Nebraska's pitching coach and recruiting coordinator, is in his third season with the Huskers, his coaching relationship with Van Horn dates back 10 years when he coached under Van Horn for two seasons at Texarkana Community College (1991-92).

Nebraska's pitching staff has made tremendous strides during Childress' two-year tenure. Last season the Huskers posted a 5.50 earned-run average, the lowest NU mark since 1994 and the sixth-best in the Big 12 Conference in 1999. The NU pitching staff struck out a school-record 438 batters in 526.2 innings of action, an average of 7.5 strikeouts per nine innings. Husker pitchers allowed just 191 walks, the second-lowest total in the last 17 seasons.

Since joining the Nebraska staff, Husker pitchers have allowed the two lowest single-season walk totals since 1977. In fact, in the five seasons before Childress' arrival, Husker pitchers averaged 5.36 walks per nine innings. In just two seasons, Childress has almost cut that number in half, as the pitching staff gave up just 3.26 walks per nine last season.

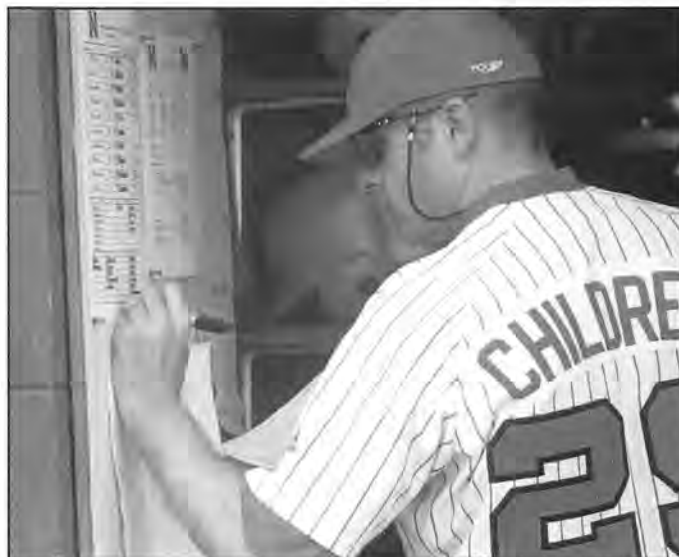

The 1999 Huskers allowed 325 earned runs, the second-lowest total in five seasons. Childress' 1998 staff allowed 236 earned runs, the fewest since the 1991 season. His contributions have been evident late in games as last year's team recorded nine saves, tied for third-most in school history and the most since 1994. In two seasons, the bullpen has earned 16 saves. Nebraska had just 12 saves the previous three seasons.

But the most noticeable difference has been in the win column. Last year's team compiled a 42-18 record, marking the team's best win percentage (.700) in 16 years, since the 1984 team went 43-18 (.705). Childress' top pitcher last year proved to be freshman right-hander Shane Komine, a native of Honolulu, Hawaii. Komine capped an impressive rookie campaign by earning Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-American, Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year and Big 12 Honorable-Mention honors. Komine recorded a team-best 3.58 ERA and 79 strikeouts to finish with a 6-2 record in 18 appearances. Komine set a single-game school record for strikeouts by a reliever, fanning 16 batters in 9.2 innings in a losing effort to Iowa State. Nebraska pitchers combined to strikeout a school-record 21 Cyclones in the game.

Husker pitchers Chad Wiles, Jarod Beringer and Scott Fries were also recognized for their efforts on the mound. Wiles was named to the Big 12 All-Tournament team and was named Collegiate Baseball's National

The Childress Family: Amanda, Hannah and Rob.

Rob Childress directed the Husker pitching staff to a school record 438 strikeouts in 1999.

Player of the Week (May 24) after throwing a one-hitter in a win over Oklahoma State on 152 pitches in the first round of the Big 12 Tournament. He also recorded a save in the Big 12 championship game. Beringer was named a first-team Farm-Team All-American, and Fries was an honorable mention on the same team.

Three years ago at Northwestern State, Childress' staff had a 4.20 earned-run average and held opponents to a .268 batting average. In 1996, the Demons' staff owned a 4.66 ERA and held opponents to a .259 batting average.

At Northwestern State, Childress handled the pitching coach duties, recruiting, field maintenance, fund raising, academic advisement and was the camp coordinator.

Childress and Van Horn first teamed up at Texarkana. In 1991 and 1992, the Bulldogs were 93-22 as Childress guided the pitching staff. Texarkana won the league championship in 1991. Following the two seasons as an assistant at Texarkana, Childress was an assistant coach at his alma mater Northwood University. In 1994, he returned to Texarkana as the head coach, replacing Van Horn, and finished with an impressive 43-10 record and a No. 3 national ranking.

Before his coaching career, Childress, who graduated from Harmony High School in Gilmer, Texas, attended Northwood where he was twice named an all-conference pitcher. Northwood won two NAIA conference championships during his career and was runner-up at the regional tournament once. Childress was elected the school's Academic Athlete of the Year as a sophomore and senior.

Childress graduated with a bachelor's of business administration and earned a master's of science from East Texas State.

Besides his collegiate coaching experience, Childress coached the Texarkana Mavericks to a 31-10 record in summer-league play in 1991.

He and his wife Amanda have a daughter Hannah, who is three.

Andy Sawyers

Volunteer Assistant Coach

Andy Sawyers enters his first year with the Nebraska coaching staff after a successful playing career with the Huskers and a one-year coaching stint at Northwestern State in Natchitoches, La.

Sawyers' primary responsibilities include working with the catchers, hitters and helping with on-campus recruiting.

At Northwestern State, Sawyers worked with the catchers and was in charge of all field maintenance. Under Sawyers' direction, the Demons had two All-Southland Conference catchers last season.

Last summer, he was the head coach of the Kearney (Mo.) River Bandits, a collegiate summer league team in the MINK (Minnesota-Iowa-Nebraska-Kansas) League. His team finished with a 29-21 record and qualified for the National Baseball Congress World Series in Wichita, Kan.

Sawyers graduated from Nebraska in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in history. On the field, he started 76 games in two years. As a senior, he hit .385 in Big 12 games and had a perfect 1.000 fielding percentage behind the plate.

A transfer from Mendocino College, Sawyers was named to the all-conference team in 1996 after hitting .335 with 18 doubles and 32 RBI. He helped Mendocino set school records for wins, winning percentage and consecutive victories. A native of Willits, Calif., he graduated from Willits High School, lettering in baseball, basketball, football, golf and cross country during his career. Sawyers' wife's name is Dena. He is currently working on a master's degree in education administration.

Scott Larsen

Student Assistant Coach

Scott Larsen enters his first year as a member of the Husker coaching staff after lettering for the Huskers the past two seasons.

Larsen, a volunteer assistant, will assist with hitting instruction and outfielders. He will also assist with Husker baseball camps.

Larsen played outfield for the Huskers and saw action in 39 games in 1998, earning the starting nod in 35 contests. Larsen played in 15 games as a senior and hit his first career home run against Chicago State, a two-run blast in the fifth inning.

As a junior, he led the Huskers in on-base percentage at .448. He drew a team-high 33 walks on the year and was the only position player to have more walks than strikeouts (32). Larsen hit .257 on the season from the left side of the plate and played 32 games in centerfield and three in right. He had 27 hits and was one of three players on the team to have three triples. He had a career-high four hits against Texas Tech on April 22, marking just the second time all year a player had four hits in one game. He started 21 of 23 conference games for the Huskers. He had a career-best five at bats in three games and had four multiple-hit games. Against UW-Milwaukee, Larsen earned four walks, which was one shy of the school-record five set by Tom Novak in 1949.

A transfer from Oklahoma Baptist, he hit over .300 each season and played in the 1996 NAIA College World Series, finishing the year with a 52-13-1 mark.

A native of Omaha, Larsen graduated from Omaha Millard South and was an all-state outfielder as a senior in 1995. He will graduate with a bachelor's degree in geography this summer.

Aaron Babcock

Assistant SID, Second Year

Aaron Babcock is in his second year as an assistant sports information director with the Nebraska athletic department after spending two years as the sports information director at the University of Nebraska at Kearney. Babcock is in charge of publicity and media relations for the nationally-ranked baseball and volleyball teams and oversees track and field and cross country.

In 1998-99, the Nebraska men's and women's track and field guide that Babcock designed and edited was voted third-best in the nation by CoSIDA, while the volleyball guide he assisted with finished second in the nation.

At Nebraska-Kearney, Babcock coordinated media relations, statistics, publications and game-day management for the Lopers' 16-sport program. He was a key figure in designing and maintaining the UNK Athletic Department Home Page on the World Wide Web. He also coordinated Nebraska's NCAA Division II Player of the Week for football, volleyball and men's and women's basketball.

Babcock graduated from UNK with a Comprehensive Bachelor of Science in Journalism/Mass Communication in 1996. During his college career, he served as a student assistant sports information director at UNK for four years. He served as the assistant sports editor of the Antelope Newspaper where he was twice awarded with the Best Collegiate Feature Story by the Nebraska Press Association in 1993 and 1994. As a photographer, he received Kodak's National Photography Award in 1992. Babcock is a native of Auburn, Wash., and graduated from Auburn High School in 1992.

Beth Kuchta

Academic Counselor

Beth Kuchta begins her fifth year with the Academic Performance and Student Services Team, serving as an academic counselor and coordinator of special programs. A native of Hartington, Neb., Kuchta earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in 1991 and earned her master's degree in educational administration in postsecondary athletics in 1998.

Kuchta supervises the Hewitt Center computer lab, organizes the annual academic awards banquet and coordinates and supervises the Student-Athlete Advisory Board. She also is responsible for the distribution of grade cards for all student-athletes. She serves as the sport counselor for baseball, men's and women's gymnastics, softball and wrestling.

Renee Brinkmann

Baseball Secretary

Renee Brinkmann is in her 13th year as the Husker baseball secretary and office manager. Brinkmann coordinates all team travel plans, serves as the main contact for the Dave Van Horn baseball camps and serves as secretary for the Husker Home Run Club (Husker baseball's primary booster organization).

A graduate of Ponca High in Ponca, Neb., she earned her associate degree from the Lincoln School of Commerce in 1983. Renee is married to Curtis Brinkmann.

Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

When Director of Athletics Bill Byrne came to the University of Nebraska in 1992, he had a vision. His plan was to balance the budget; provide a stable financial base to build successful programs into the next millennium; provide complete and integrated services for Husker student-athletes; improve NU's aging facilities for the benefit of student-athletes and fans; and make Nebraska the best athletic program in the nation. He has pursued that vision with passion.

In Byrne's seventh year in Lincoln, Nebraska is among the nation's best in all sports. The Huskers have ranked among the top 15 in the Sears Directors' Cup in each of the last five years with a school-best fourth-place showing in 1996-97. Byrne won't rest until the Huskers are No. 1.

Improving facilities to pave the way to success has been a priority. Facility upgrades were not only needed to recruit the nation's top athletes, but to provide improved fan amenities and fan safety. The 1999 season unveiled NU's biggest project yet, the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes much more than just 42 Skyboxes and a press facility. Most impressively, the project provides a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards in 1994, allowing Nebraska to become the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Memorial Stadium was renovated to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, a new public address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans. Complete waterproofing and concrete repair will continue throughout the stadium into the next decade.

Facility updates will not end with the football program. The Bob Devaney Sports Center has received more than $7.9 million in improvements, including the addition of HuskerVision screens. The project also includes improved fan amenities, better seating for disabled fans and a complete upper concourse renovation with a Hall of Honor, Husker timeline and other exhibits commemorating a century of NU athletics. Other improvements to Devaney under Byrne's watch include a new locker room for women's staff, a new roof over the pool area, remodeling of the central concessions area, a new weight room, new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator.

The track and field program will benefit from a $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Devaney Center next year, and a $2 million Ed Weir Outdoor Track Project, which will be completed in the spring of 2000. In 1998-99, the Abbott Sports Soccer Complex received a new press facility, which helped secure a home game in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships for the third consecutive season. The women's rifle program also kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. In 1997-98, the NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza. The NU Coliseum received a new volleyball ready room, and new infield turf was installed at Buck Beltzer Baseball Stadium, which is next in line for major renovations.

Over the past five years, the Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. Improvements and reorganization of the offices within the athletic department have helped make Nebraska more user-friendly and better utilizes Byrne's plan of "one-stop shopping" for fans and student-athletes. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program, which quickly took its place among the top five revenue-generating programs in the country.

Byrne orchestrated the improvements while balancing the budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $36 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

He has made just seven coaching hires in the last six years, but his knack for recognizing young, charismatic talent is evident. Byrne hired Dan Kendig in 1994 for women's gymnastics (advanced to the NCAA Championships in four of the last five seasons); women's soccer coach John Walker in 1994 (participated in NCAA tournament last four years, including the Elite Eight in 1996 and 1999); Paul Sanderford for women's basketball in 1997 (earned NCAA tournament berths both years); Bill Straub for women's bowling in 1997 (won the national title in 1999); Dave Van Horn to lead the baseball program in 1998 (won school's first conference tournament championship in 1999, and earned first NCAA regional berth since 1985); football coach Frank Solich in 1997 (posted Nebraska's 31st consecutive nine-win season and won the Big 12 Championship in 1999); and Karen Anthony for women's rifle in 1998 (competed in inaugural season in 1999).

During Byrne's tenure in Lincoln, Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. He has helped increase Nebraska's conference-leading athletic program to 24 sports with the additions of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99) and has been a strong supporter of complying with Title IX without hurting Nebraska's century-old men's programs. In the past six years, Byrne has promoted three women to senior administrative positions. In fact, Nebraska is the only school in the nation with a woman in charge of football operations and one of just five Division I football schools to have a woman directing its Sports Information department.

He has continued to make great strides in helping Nebraska improve its rank among the nation's elite, even though the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 1998-99 season, Nebraska:

- ◆ recorded its fifth consecutive top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings with a 12th-place showing in Division I.
- ◆ won four Big 12 championships (volleyball, soccer, women's gymnastics and baseball).

women's soccer, wrestling, men's and women's gymnastics, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, women's outdoor track and field, men's golf and women's bowling.

Byrne has worked tirelessly to establish close ties with the NU community and Husker fans and has canvassed the state visiting with boosters to learn the needs of all Husker fans. In conjunction with the rest of the NU administration, Byrne arranged to use the Husker football and basketball networks to promote causes and concerns important to the university community, including the institution's increased role in research.

Byrne was hired to replace legendary coach and athletic director Bob Devaney on June 26, 1992, becoming the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics after 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was named the Central Region NACDA/Continental Athletic Director of the Year along with being recognized by the American Football Coaches Association in 1999. Byrne was vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in collegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort to place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. In 1999, he served as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has had an active voice in conference planning.

Before coming to Nebraska, Byrne became one of the youngest directors of athletics in Division I, assuming the top job at Oregon in May 1984. He established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks games on radio and television. Byrne led the $19 million fund drive that resulted in new homes for the Oregon's football team and athletic offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 1991-92, and is currently in his eighth year on the NACDA Executive Committee. He was also chairman of the Pac-10 Conference Executive Committee and was the National Athletic Fundraisers Association National Fundraiser of the Year.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the dean of graduate studies in educational leadership at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in higher education administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 4, and Davis, 2, live in Junction City, Ore., where Greg is an associate athletic director at Oregon State. Bill and Marilyn's other son, Bill, is a division manager for Visa in its worldwide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

James Moeser

Chancellor

James Moeser became the chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln on Feb. 1, 1996. He holds the rank of professor of music. Since arriving, Moeser (pronounced MEE-zer) has promoted an ambitious agenda. He has emphasized undergraduate education, keeping Nebraska's best students in Nebraska. He is working to increase the rigor of Nebraska's undergraduate curriculum while improving student recruitment and retention. He is especially interested in expanding the Honors Program with more courses, scholarships and residential learning experiences.

His second goal is to build world-class programs in areas Nebraska has identified strengths. He promotes efficient business practices to generate savings to be channeled into potentially pre-eminent programs.

Moeser is committed to developing the character and values of students. He believes the university's role is not to dictate those values, but to assist students in developing their own value systems. He is committed to building an academic community diverse in culture, national origin and gender.

He began his academic career at Kansas in 1966 as an assistant professor and chairman of the department of organ. Moeser worked his way through the academic ranks until being named Dean of the School of Fine Arts. He was named Althaus Distinguished Professor of Organ in 1984, the first academic dean at Kansas ever to be named to a distinguished professorship. He was appointed Dean of the College of Arts and Architecture at Penn State in 1986 and was executive director of University Arts Services in charge of Penn State's cultural programs. He became Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost at South Carolina in 1992.

Born and raised in Texas, Moeser earned a bachelor of music degree with honors in 1961 and a master's of music in 1964 from Texas at Austin. He completed advanced study in Berlin and Paris under a Fulbright grant and earned a doctor of musical arts from Michigan in 1967. He has an international reputation as a concert organist and concertized until 1993. He was president of the American Guild of Organists and vice president from 1986 to 1990.

Chancellor Moeser's wife, Susan Dickerson Moeser, also holds a doctor of musical arts degree and is a faculty member in the UNL School of Music with an active concert organ schedule. Moeser is the father of two children.

Bob Burton

Associate Athletic Director, Sports Administration

Bob Burton enters his first year at Nebraska as the associate athletic director for sports administration. Burton is responsible for the administration and supervision of 20 of Nebraska's 24 varsity sports, with the exception of football, men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball. He will oversee budgets, personnel, scheduling and compliance for his assigned sports. He fills the position that became available when Al Papik moved to football to assist with the direction of football operations in August of 1997.

Burton served in a similar position at Oklahoma State as the assistant athletic director for sports administration and compliance from 1993 to 1997. He oversaw Oklahoma State's Olympic sports programs and the training and strength and conditioning programs.

Burton comes to Nebraska from Texas Tech, where he served as an associate athletic director for compliance for one year. While at Texas Tech, Burton helped complete the NCAA investigation into the Red Raider athletic department and analyzed the entire compliance system at the institution. He also helped identify and implement financial aid and eligibility systems, including changes in personnel and restructuring of the compliance department.

Burton served as a legislative administrator for the NCAA from 1989 to 1993. At the NCAA, he was involved in the development of legislation, interpretation of regulations and reviewed legal issues related to the application of the association's regulations. He served as an NCAA liaison to committees and conducted comprehensive education to several intercollegiate athletic conferences. He has served on the National Association of Athletic Compliance Coordinators Executive Committee and the subcommittee of Big 12 Directors of Compliance.

Although he has served in athletic administrative positions around the country for the past decade, Burton is no stranger to Nebraska. He received his bachelor's degree in finance from NU in 1985 and his juris doctorate from the University of Nebraska School of Law in 1989.

Burton is a native of Falls City, Neb., and graduated from Falls City High School in 1981. He and his wife, Krista, originally from Omaha, have a three-year-old daughter, Elly.

Personal Information

Birthdate:
June 7, 1978
Full name:
Jim Bailey
Parents:
Gord and Mary Bailey
Brothers:
Mike, 24, Peter, 18
Major:
Business Administration

Outlook

Jim Bailey is a left-handed hitting, right-handed throwing infielder who will play either corner infield position this season, but enters the season as one of the favorites to start at first base along with junior transfers Dan Wright and Dan Johnson. Coach Dave Van Horn said Bailey has the ability to hit the ball out of the ballpark and drive it into the alleys and will likely play most games vs. right-handed pitchers. Bailey had a great offseason after finishing strong in 1999.

1999 (Junior)

Bailey was named to the NCAA All-Regional Team at third base after starting five of the last six games. He started 19 games (12 at 3B, seven at DH) and saw action in 29 games as a junior. He hit .349 for the year, notching 22 hits in 63 at bats. He also scored 21 runs, drove in 23 and drew 17 walks. He hit one double, one triple and four home runs, two of which came against Mississippi State in the NCAA Tournament. All four of his home runs were hit off right-handed pitchers.

He played in six Big 12 games, earning the starting nod in four, and went 7-for-18 for a .389 average.

The Nanaimo, British Columbia, native tied two school records against Chicago State (3/16) in Nebraska's NCAA record 50-3 win by scoring seven runs and drawing five walks. In that same game he teamed up with Ken Harvey to hit back-to-back, two-out roundtrippers in the fourth inning.

Against Lamar, Bailey had a pinch-hit home run, the first by a Husker in three seasons. He also came through in the clutch against Oregon State, with a pinch-hit RBI single in his first-ever at bat for Nebraska.

New Mexico Junior College

At New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs, N.M., Bailey led the Thunderbirds to two consecutive WJCA Conference championships. As a sophomore in 1998, he hit .351 with 22 home runs as New Mexico JC finished third in the Region V Regionals with a 42-18 mark. He added 62 runs batted in, 14 triples and 13 doubles.

As a freshman, he hit .448 as the Thunderbirds finished fourth in the Region V Regionals with a 38-14 record. He hit nine home runs, four triples, 14 doubles and knocked in 49 runs. His junior college coach was Ray Birmingham.

Nanaimo District Secondary School

Bailey is a 1996 graduate of Nanaimo District Secondary School, which did not sponsor baseball. He played city league and also played for the Canadian Junior National Team. He played for Coach Doug Moreside on his city league baseball team.

Bolt Fast Facts

- Was the only NU player to start every Big 12 game in 1999.

Personal Information

Birthdate:
Nov. 1, 1979

Parents:
Debbie and Bill Bolt

Major:
Undeclared

Outlook

Will Bolt is one of the top young infielders in the Big 12 Conference. An all-state product from Texas, he started at second base as a freshman, but will move to shortstop as a sophomore. He has a great arm and will team up with junior college transfer Josh Hesse and sophomore John Cole (both at second) to form one of the toughest middle infielders in the Big 12.

Bolt has worked hard on his offensive skills and had a great fall season. The coaches are expecting even better things from him and may use him at second if necessary. Despite being just a sophomore, he has a lot of experience and was one of just 17 freshmen to start on opening day at NU since 1980. Bolt chose Nebraska despite growing up less than one hour from College Station, Texas. He is the first native Texan to play baseball at Nebraska since current Husker football assistant coach Turner Gill played in 1982.

1999 (Freshman)

Bolt had a strong defensive season for Nebraska, starting 55 games as a true freshman in the infield. The righty hit .278, scoring 48 runs and driving in 43. Bolt's batting average was deceiving though, as he proved to be a consistent hitter, compiling a 16-game hitting streak from March 6 through April 7, where his average reached a season-high .316. His 16-game streak is the longest in school history by a freshman and is the 10th longest overall in NU history. During that stretch, he went 24-for-66 at the plate (.364), scoring 15 runs and driving in 19.

He had 16 doubles for the year to rank second on the team and also drew 18 walks. He stole eight bases in 11 attempts and led the team defensively, with 161 assists.

Bolt started 48 games at second base last season, while earning the starting nod at shortstop five times. He also started two games at third – the only times he has ever played the position. Nebraska went 5-0 in games Bolt started at shortstop last season, with him hitting .333 in those games.

Bolt was the only Husker player to start every Big 12 game last year and responded by hitting .252 with four doubles, three triples and three home runs.

His highlight last season came in Nebraska's first of three wins over No. 8 Texas, when he delivered the game-winning hit in the bottom of the ninth to down the Longhorns. Against Iowa State (4/18), he had a season-high four hits, including two triples, and drove in two runs in the 10th inning in the 9-6 win. He scored a season-high three runs vs. San Diego State (2/7). He was third on the team with 14 multiple-RBI games and sported a .436 average as a leadoff hitter. His best stretch of the year came in March when he hit .340 for the month.

Conroe High School

As a senior, Bolt led Conroe High School to a 21-8 record before the Tigers lost to eventual state champion Klein, 10-6, in the regional quarterfinals. Bolt played shortstop, and along with Lou Ferrell, gave Conroe the best fielding pair of middle infielders in Houston. For his defensive efforts, Bolt was named the Montgomery County Defensive Most Valuable Player. He was an all-state shortstop and hit .489 (46-of-94) with 31 RBI, four home runs and 24 stolen bases in 24 attempts. He also earned All-Greater Houston honors from the Houston Chronicle. In the second annual Houston Area Baseball Coaches All-Star Game at Cougar Field, Bolt hit a three-run home run in the seventh inning for the Northeast team in a game that ended in a 9-9 tie. As a junior, Bolt hit .485 with 22 stolen bases and scored 40 runs. In 1997, he helped his AAU team, which included the top players in Texas, to a fifth-place finish in the 18-and-under National Tournament in Orlando, Fla.

#4 John Cole

Kanata, Ontario (Earl of March)

Outlook

John Cole was tabbed a National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association Preseason Third-Team All-American before the start of the 2000 season after a stellar freshman campaign. Cole iced Nebraska's Big 12 Tournament championship with his acrobatic catch in the top of the ninth with two outs and runners at first and second in the title game against No. 9 Baylor, preserving a 4-3 victory. He also scored the winning run as a pinch runner against Texas A&M in the Big 12 semifinal game. After suffering a severe groin pull during the fall season, the coaches are confident Cole will be 100 percent by Nebraska's season opener. He is NU's top returning hitter and is one of the best athletes on the team. He set a school record with a 1.59-second 10-yard dash and a 4.59-second 40-yard dash as a freshman. Cole will play left field and second base this season.

1999 (Freshman)

Cole finished second on the team last season with a .396 batting average, the 10th-best single-season average in school history and the best mark ever by an NU freshman, breaking Ken Harvey's record of .388 set in 1997. His average would have ranked fourth in the Big 12 had he met the minimum number of at bats. He was named to the NCAA All-Regional Team as an outfielder and was also a Big 12 All-Tournament selection. Cole finished the season with 57 hits, 46 RBI, and a perfect 15-for-15 on stolen base attempts. He was fourth on the team with 13 multiple RBI games and had seven homers on the year (three vs. lefties, four vs. righties).

He opened and closed his home season in dramatic fashion, hitting two home runs in his first and final games at Buck Beltzer Stadium, including his first and last at bats. He played in 49 of Nebraska's 60 games and earned the starting nod in 31 contests, including 18 games in left field (team went 12-6) and 12 games at second base (team went 11-1). He ended the season with a seven-game hitting streak and had 17 hits in his final 31 at bats (.548), including 8-for-17 (.471) in the NCAA Tournament. One of the team's best clutch hitters, Cole hit .667 with the bases loaded and .432 with two outs. Against Mississippi State, he had a 15-pitch at bat, rallying from an 0-2 count to take three balls and foul off seven pitches before lining a single into right center field. He utilized his speed to record four bunt singles.

Cole hit .383 in Big 12 play, stealing nine bases on nine attempts, posting a .600 slugging percentage and a perfect 1.000 fielding percentage.

He tied a school record with six base hits against Kansas State and had a team season-best 13 total bases in the game, including a double and two home runs. He was a first-team honorable-mention academic All-Big 12 selection. He played summer ball for the semi-pro Beatrice Bruins in the offseason.

Earl of March High School

Cole's high school did not offer high school baseball, but he played for the Ottawa Nationals, a select Connie Mack League team in his area, and for the Ontario Bluejays, a select team in his province. For the Nationals in 1997, Cole started at second base for a team that finished the season with a 32-28 record. He had a .410 batting average, scored 42 runs, had 54 RBI, 16 doubles, six triples, seven home runs and 30 stolen bases in 31 attempts, leading his team to the provincial championships for 15-to-17-year-olds. In the semifinal and championship games, Cole had a home run, four RBI and two doubles, including a two-run double in the first inning of the title game. At Earl of March High School, Cole earned two letters in football, four in basketball and two in volleyball.

#24 Justin Cowan

Senior • C • 5-10 • 195 • Bats: Right • Throws: Right
Tumwater, Wash. (Tumwater/South Mountain CC)

Cowan Fast Facts

- Tied a school record with three doubles against Jacksonville State (2/21/99)
- His team-high 21 doubles in 1999 is the eighth-most in NU single-season history.
- Sparked Nebraska to a sweep over No. 8 Texas with a grand slam in the bottom of the first inning in game one of the three-game series.

Personal Information

Birthdate: Nov. 24, 1977
Parents: Mike and Jeanne Cowan
Brother: J.D., 24
Major: Criminal Justice

Outlook

Justin Cowan had a solid sophomore season at South Mountain Community College. Cowan, who began his career at Oregon State, played four positions as a junior, starting in right field (27 games), catcher (18 games), designated hitter (nine games) and first base (three games). He punished opposing pitchers for 21 doubles, the eighth-best total in school history. He will be the primary backstop for the Huskers this season and is one of the team's best power hitters, cranking out nine home runs in 1999. He is the second player in school history from Tumwater, Wash., a city just south of Olympia, the state capital. The first NU player from Tumwater was Casey Deskins in 1994.

1999 (Junior)

Cowan was one of 10 Huskers to hit over .300 last season, sporting a .312 mark and finishing second on the team in RBI (60) and total bases (119) and third on the team in at bats (221), runs scored (52), home runs (nine) and extra-base hits (31). He overcame a sluggish start to hit .351 (23-for-77) in his final 20 games, including an impressive .421 average in his last 10 games. During his last 10 games he scored 15 runs, drove in 15 more, hit five doubles and drew six walks. He was tied for the team lead with 57 starts and played in all but two games, which he missed due to an ankle injury.

Three of his nine homers were three-run blasts, but his biggest home run was a grand slam in the bottom of the first inning that keyed the Huskers to a 9-8 win in the first game of a three-game sweep over No. 8 Texas in Lincoln.

Cowan tied a school record with three doubles vs. Jacksonville State at the Marriott West Loop Invite in Houston, Texas. He also had a season-high seven RBI along with two homers in a win over Nebraska-Kearney in Lincoln. One of his seven stolen bases came in a 14-12 loss to Creighton when he stole home.

A solid defensive player, he finished third on the team with a .989 fielding percentage and went 33 straight games without committing an error. He finished the season with a .353 average against lefties compared to his .300 average against right-handed pitchers. He hit .444 with bases loaded and was hit by pitch nine times, the second-highest total on the team.

South Mountain CC

Cowan was a third-team NJCAA Division I All-American at South Mountain in Phoenix, Ariz. He earned first-team all-region and first-team all-league honors. As a sophomore, Cowan helped SMCC finish second in the region. He had a .403 batting average, which ranked first in the region. Cowan had 77 hits, including a region-best 23 doubles. He led the region with 80 runs batted in and finished second with 15 home runs. He had 147 total bases for a slugging percentage of .770.

Oregon State

In 1997 at Oregon State, Cowan hit .341 while playing in 26 games, including 10 starts. He had 14 hits, two home runs, two doubles, 12 RBI and owned a .537 slugging percentage.

Tumwater High School

Cowan earned first-team all-state honors as a senior at Tumwater High School. He twice was an all-league first-team pick and was an honorable-mention selection one year. He played third base and catcher for Coach Tim Graham. As a senior, Cowan hit .410 with eight home runs. He earned three letters in baseball and also earned two letters in football and one as a wrestler.

Outlook

Scott Fries (pronounced Freeze) has a good arm and was Nebraska's top left-handed starter in his first season with the Huskers after transferring from Coffeyville Community College. He will continue to be the Huskers' workhorse but will probably see fewer innings, considering NU's deeper pitching lineup this season.

Fries led Nebraska in innings pitched last season and drew some of the pitching staff's toughest assignments. He had a solid fall and pitched for the Liberal Bluejays semi-pro team under Coach John Wentz during the offseason. He improved his velocity and pitched 30 innings for the Bluejays with a 2.86 ERA during the summer.

"Scott shouldered the load on our pitching staff last season, and we will count on him to do much of the same this year," Van Horn said. "He has worked hard to continue to improve and should be even better this season."

1999 (Junior)

Fries was Nebraska's top starter for the majority of his junior season, leading Nebraska with 100.2 innings pitched and compiling an 8-7 record, including a 5-1 start. Fries started a team-high 17 games and made 19 appearances, giving up 76 earned runs for a 6.79 earned run average. He gave up 122 hits, walked 30 batters and struck out 64, which was the second most on the team. He held opponents to a .299 batting average on the year.

He pitched two complete games, including eight innings at No. 2 Rice (2/20) and nine innings in a win over No. 8 Texas (3/26) in Lincoln. In the win over Texas, he gave up a two-run home run in the top of the first inning, before settling down to retire 19 straight batters en route to the win.

His personal-best 14 strikeouts in the series opener against Kansas was the most by a Husker starter last season. The Huskers went 10-7 with Fries starting on the mound. As a reliever, Fries went 1-1 in 5.1 innings of work with five strikeouts and a 6.75 ERA.

He is one of just six pitchers in Nebraska history to pitch over 100 innings in a season, and tied the fifth-best mark for innings pitched in a single season.

Fries also did a good job holding baserunners in check, giving up just 10 stolen bases on 17 attempts. In 10 non-conference appearances, he held a 5.19 ERA and posted a 6-3 record in 52 innings of work. He struck out 34 batters and allowed 30 earned runs. For the season, he averaged 12.2 groundouts per game and 7.8 flyouts per game.

Coffeyville CC

Fries was 4-5 with a 3.63 earned-run average for Coffeyville in 1997. Fries made 20 appearances and had 63.2 innings pitched with 56 strikeouts, allowing only 33 earned runs and was selected to play in the Jayhawk All-Star Game. Before transferring to Coffeyville, Fries played at Peru State in 1997.

Centura High School

Fries graduated from Centura High School where he was a member of the national honor society and earned four letters in football, one letter in basketball and one in golf. He led his American Legion team to two state playoff appearances, including a runnerup finish as a junior.

Outlook

Steve Hale is one of the Huskers' top young pitching prospects and returns after he was granted a medical redshirt last season. Hale has recovered and is 100 percent entering the season and should see considerable time on the mound as either a starter or middle reliever. The Yukon, Okla., native has a tough curveball and has proved that he is ready to pitch at the Division I level.

1999 (Freshman - Medical Redshirt)

Hale was granted a medical redshirt last season after making nine appearances in Nebraska's 60 games. He pitched 30 innings and had a 3-2 record with a 4.80 ERA. The true freshman surrendered 16 earned runs and 34 hits, walking just 10 batters in 30 innings (3.0 walks per nine innings, second-lowest on the team).

He went 2-0 as a starter, earning starts against Jacksonville State (2/21), Wisconsin-Milwaukee (2/27) and Oklahoma (3/6). In his first career start, he pitched six innings, gave up seven hits, one earned run, no walks and seven strikeouts. His only earned run came on a two-run homer in the top of the fifth. In his next outing, he was superb, fanning 10 batters in a season-high 7.2 innings of work. He allowed just six hits and three earned runs while walking just one batter to improve to 2-2. His season came to a crashing halt in Lawrence, Kan., on March 20. Called in to relieve starter Shane Komine, who was suffering back spasms, Hale felt his elbow give on the last pitch to Ryan Klocksien on a groundout in the sixth inning.

In six relief appearances, Hale earned one save (vs. Lamar, 2/14), went 1-2, and had a 3.86 ERA in 14 innings.

Yukon High School

Hale had an impressive senior season finishing with a 14-1 record and earning first-team all-state honors from the Oklahoma Coaches Association. In 96 innings pitched, he had 115 strikeouts, threw five shutouts and had a no-hitter. He threw 13 complete games for Yukon, as the team finished 30-13 and lost in the district finals. He also played third base and was a designated hitter.

He also produced double figure wins during his American Legion season.

Outlook

Shane Komine (pronounced co-ME-nay) established himself as one of the nation's top pitchers and one of the best in school history last season with a terrific freshman campaign. The Honolulu, Hawaii, native was the top right-handed pitcher on last year's team and will draw Nebraska's toughest competition this year.

The 1999 Big 12 Freshman of the Year, Komine was hampered by back spasms through the second half of the 1999 season, but has worked hard in the offseason, added size to his frame and is in great physical condition, according to the coaching staff. He was named a Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-American a year ago and looks to continue to add to his already impressive resume with a standout sophomore season. Komine has great control and throws three pitches consistently for strikes.

1999 (Freshman)

Komine had one of the best seasons ever for a Husker freshman pitcher, throwing 78 innings and recording 79 strikeouts. His 78 innings of work were second most on the team, despite missing time due to lower back problems.

Komine was named the Big 12 Freshman of the Year and earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors from league coaches and the Dallas Morning News. He was also named a first-team All-American by Collegiate Baseball and was named to Baseball America's Second-Team Freshman All-America Team.

He had a team-low 3.58 ERA and sported an impressive 6-2 record, including a perfect 5-0 start. His first collegiate win was a 10-2 decision over Nicholls State in the first game of Rice's Bone and Joint Classic in Houston, Texas.

Komine made 18 appearances and threw two complete games in back-to-back outings – a 9.2-inning performance against No. 8 Texas A&M (4/3) and a nine-inning outing against No. 23 Oklahoma State (4/10). Nebraska fell to the Aggies, 3-2, but defeated OSU, 15-7. Two outings later, Komine came out of the bullpen to throw 9.2 innings against Iowa State (4/18), recording 16 strikeouts in relief in a 6-5 losing effort to the Cyclones. However, his total strikeouts marked a Nebraska record for strikeouts by a reliever, and he was named the Big 12 Pitcher of the Week for his performance.

Komine posted impressive numbers in league play, holding a 2.23 ERA with nine appearances. He went 3-2 and struck out 50 batters in 48.1 innings. As impressive as his numbers were, his stats as a reliever were astounding. In seven appearances he compiled a 2-1 record, had two saves and a near-untouchable 0.39 ERA in 23 innings on the mound. He struck out 27 batters, allowed just 19 hits and walked only nine batters.

Komine's back problems worsened at the end of the season, and he pitched just 4.1 innings in Nebraska's final 15 games, including just two innings (0.1 vs. Texas A&M, 1.2 vs. Mississippi State) in the postseason.

He was stingy in allowing extra-base hits last season, giving up just six home runs, including just two roundtrippers in his final 56.2 innings. For the year, he gave up an average of just one home run every 13 innings.

Kalani High School

Komine was named the OIA East Player of the Year and was named an honorable-mention All-American by USA Today. At Kalani High School, he finished his senior season with a 6-1 record and a 0.84 earned-run average. He was impressive on the mound with 95 strikeouts in 50 innings. His team finished sixth in the state for the second consecutive year. In the state tournament, Komine struck out 17 in a seven-inning game against Roosevelt. Earlier in the season, he struck out 13 in six innings of relief work against Waianae. He also played outfield for the Falcons. His high school coach was Shannon Hirai. As a junior, Komine had 54 strikeouts in 26 innings and was named to the OIA East Baseball First Team.

Outlook

Brandon Penas (pronounced PEN-yoss) had a great sophomore season after transferring from Doane College. Penas is expected to continue his role as a spot reliever but may also draw a couple of starts as one of the most consistent left-handed pitchers on the Nebraska staff. Penas has the perfect mentality to come in and pitch in difficult situations and the coaches are looking for another consistent season from the Grand Island native.

"Brandon does a good job of getting outs," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said. "He'll continue to pitch one time through the lineup and will be available almost every day."

1999 (Sophomore)

Penas proved to be a valuable reliever for the Huskers last year, giving the Huskers a reliable hurler out of the bullpen. He compiled a 4-0 record last season with one save and had a respectable 5.20 earned-run average after pitching 27.2 innings. He struck out 28 batters, while giving up just 10 walks. He led the team by holding opponents to a .252 batting average (held lefties to .171).

He started one game and led Nebraska to a 14-1 win over Western Illinois after pitching the first four innings. He allowed just one hit, no walks and struck out five in the scoreless outing.

He helped the Huskers close out their regular-season home schedule by picking up the win against Kansas State (5/16) in four innings of work. He was limited in the postseason due to elbow stiffness and pitched to just one batter vs. No. 4 Texas A&M in the Big 12 Tournament semifinals.

Penas' longest outing of the season was a five-inning performance vs. Louisiana Tech, where he had a career-high six strikeouts against the Bulldogs. He helped Nebraska rally from an 8-4 deficit to down No. 8 Texas, by pitching 3.2 scoreless innings. He allowed just two hits before the Huskers came back and won behind Shane Komine.

He went 1-0 in his two Big 12 appearances despite a 10.32 ERA in 11.1 innings. In 16.1 innings against non-conference opponents, he had a 1.65 ERA in nine appearances. He did not surrender a stolen base all season.

Doane College

Penas played for Doane College in the 1998 season for Coach Jack Hudkins. For the Tigers, Penas was 3-6 with a 6.55 earned-run average. He had 57.2 innings pitched, allowing 42 earned runs, while striking out 49 and walking 37.

Grand Island High School

Penas was the workhorse for his Home Federal American Legion team that won the state title in the summer of 1998. He finished the year with a 12-4 mark with 103 innings pitched. He had 123 strikeouts and a 2.25 earned-run average. Penas, who was named to the 1997 American Legion All-State Team, was coached by Randy Spiehs, father of Husker pitcher R.D. Spiehs. Academically, he finished in the top 20 percent of his class. He also earned three letters in football.

Outlook

Brian Rodaway is in his third season with the Huskers and has continued to improve after pitching as a spot reliever for the Huskers the past two seasons. He is coming off the best fall of his career and will likely hold down the same role again this season. The coaches are looking for him to provide some quality innings against left-handed batters out of the bullpen.

Rodaway has made 17 appearances during his first two seasons and has 26.1 innings of game experience. He has a career ERA of 9.91 and gave the Huskers several solid outings last year.

Rodaway made nine appearances in 1999 and threw nine innings. He had a 6.00 ERA, a save and a 0-1 record. His lone save came against Southern Illinois (5/8), where he retired the only batter he faced in a 4-3 win.

He pitched a season-high three innings against Western Illinois (4/20) and surrendered five hits, no earned runs, one walk and two strikeouts. Rodaway was the starting pitcher in Nebraska's 11-7 win over Chicago State (3/17). He had three strikeouts in relief against Missouri (4/24) and allowed just one earned run in his last seven relief appearances.

Rodaway did not allow a run, earned or unearned, in two Big 12 appearances. He gave up just one hit and struck out three batters in his 2.1 innings of league action.

1998 (Freshman)

Rodaway saw time as a spot reliever and starter for the Huskers and pitched well in front of hostile crowds at Oklahoma State and Texas. He was one of five pitchers to combine in NU's 11-0 shutout of Toledo on March 1, in his first career appearance. He had one strikeout in one inning against the Rockets. He made his first career start against Hawaii on March 27 at the Rainbow Easter Baseball Tournament in Honolulu, Hawaii. He pitched 3.2 innings, allowing seven earned runs in an 11-3 loss.

He made his first conference appearance against Missouri and pitched 2.2 innings. He started against Dana College on April 15 and pitched three innings against the Vikings. At Oklahoma State, he pitched in relief and struck out a career-best four Cowboys in 2.2 innings. He allowed two runs and two hits against OSU at Stillwater. At Texas, he made another strong relief appearance with two strikeouts in 2.1 innings against the Longhorns. He earned First-Team Academic All-Big 12 honors as a freshman.

Lincoln High

Rodaway had a successful all-around high school career. He was a two-time all-city selection and two-time all-conference pick. He was a second-team all-state pick in 1996 and a first-team all-state selection in 1997. He earned academic all-state honors in basketball and baseball. For the Links, he had a career record of 9-6 in two seasons. In 1997, he was 4-3 with 22.2 innings pitched. Rodaway struck out 52 of the 85 batters he faced. He finished the year with a 2.69 ERA. At the plate, he hit .294 and hit two home runs in 34 plate appearances. He was coached at Lincoln High by Stan Haas. In 1996, the Links made an appearance in the state tournament, their first in 24 years. He was a member of the National Honor Society.

Outlook

The coaching staff is expecting great things from Dave Schneider this spring after a productive freshman season. The aggressive righty earned valuable experience a year ago and will look to capitalize on it as a late-inning reliever for the Huskers in 2000. He has good command over his pitches and was 2-0 last spring. He has good movement on his fastball to complement his slider and changeup.

"Dave does a good job, because he gets opponents to hit a lot of ground balls," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said. "He should be even better this year, since he'll be more comfortable on the mound."

1999 (Freshman)

Schneider, a walk-on, gave the Huskers 31.1 solid innings out of the bullpen as a freshman. He went 2-0 with a 6.03 earned run average in 12 appearances. He struck out 26 batters and gave up just eight walks (an average of just 2.3 per nine innings).

He earned two starts on the year (Nebraska-Kearney, 4/13 and Northern Iowa, 5/11). He responded by striking out a career-high seven batters against UNK, throwing five innings of four-hit baseball for his first collegiate win and decision. He blew the save, but earned the win in Nebraska's 9-6 win at Iowa State (4/18) to pick up his other victory. Nebraska went 7-5 in Schneider-pitched contests.

Schneider pitched in a total of five Big 12 games, holding a 6.75 ERA in 10.2 innings. He had nine strikeouts in four innings in conference play.

Omaha Westside High School

Schneider was a hard-nosed pitcher at Omaha Westside for Coach Bob Greco. Between summer American Legion baseball and high school, Schneider was on three state runner-up teams and a state champion squad. As a senior, he was a first-team all-state and first-team all-metro pick by the Omaha World-Herald. For Westside his senior year, he was 7-2 with a 2.33 earned run average. In 62 innings pitched, Schneider struck out 66 batters which ranked second in the state in the spring. In the state tournament, he tossed a two-hit shutout with 12 strikeouts against Millard North. In the summer, he was 9-4 with a 3.03 ERA. In the American League Regionals, he pitched a nine-inning one-hitter against Pratt, Kan. He struck out 13 before allowing a ninth-inning triple.

Outlook

Adam Shabala returns for his senior season as the starting right fielder after starting 45 games for the Huskers last season. One of eight seniors, he will likely bat second in the lineup this year after starting 34 games in that spot last season. He has a good arm and great speed, which should give Nebraska one of the fastest outfields in the Big 12 Conference this year.

Shabala does a fantastic job of finding a way to reach base and had the second-highest on-base percentage among Husker starters last season with a .496 mark. He is one of Nebraska's best base runners and is always a threat to steal. "He has the most accurate arm of any outfielder I've ever coached," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said.

Shabala had the third-best batting average on the team last season, sporting a .373 mark as a starting outfielder for the Huskers. He started 45 games for Nebraska (32 in center, eight in right and five in left) and saw action in 54 of 60 contests. He had the second-best on-base percentage among NU starters (.496), drawing a team-high 41 walks, including six in a three-game series against Oklahoma. He was second on the team in stolen bases, swiping 28-of-31 attempts. He had just three errors on the year and threw out a team-high four opponents from the outfield.

He shredded opponents in non-conference action, posting a .432 average (including the Big 12 Tournament). Shabala saw his average dip to .273 in league games and had just seven stolen bases during the Big 12 season because of a knee injury. One of the team's best bunters, he had seven bunt base hits to lead the team.

As good as Shabala was as a starter, he had even better numbers off the bench, hitting .529 as a sub (9-for-17). The clutch hitter hit .457 with runners on base, .432 with two outs and .467 with runners in scoring position. He got off to a torrid start hitting .500 with 10 stolen bases in February. He was successful on his first 12 stolen base attempts of the season.

Kiswaukee College

Shabala had a .401 batting average for Kiswaukee as a sophomore. Hitting leadoff, he scored 90 runs, had 75 hits, 32 RBI and stole 37 bases in 41 attempts. He was named first-team all-conference and all-region in both 1997 and 1998, leading the Kougars to the conference title in 1998. As a freshman, Shabala hit .420, with 60 hits, including 16 doubles and 38 stolen bases, as his team finished 33-15. Shabala's coach was Mike Davenport.

Streator High School

In Shabala's career at Streator High School, he had a .417 career batting average with 62 RBI, 28 doubles, 14 triples and five home runs as a third baseman. As a pitcher, he was 13-4 with a 2.54 earned run average. He was the school's MVP in baseball and basketball his senior season, earning all-conference honors in both.

Outlook

R.D. Spiehs (pronounced Spees) is a player who will continue to be a major contributor to the Husker pitching lineup in 2000. Spiehs is a returning reliever for the Huskers after making a Nebraska freshman-record 23 appearances in 1999. Spiehs enters the season third on the depth-chart among right-handed pitchers and will likely earn several starts this season to give the Huskers a very deep rotation on the mound.

He overcame a slow start last season and emerged as NU's hottest pitcher down the stretch with a win over No. 4 Texas A&M in the Big 12 Tournament semifinals and Bowling Green in the NCAA Tournament to give Nebraska its first NCAA victory since 1985. He shed 25 pounds since the beginning of his freshman season and should see the difference in his pitching performances. He is also an experienced catcher, but would probably only be used in an emergency situation.

1999 (Freshman)

Spiehs had a tremendous freshman season for the Huskers and set an NU freshman record by making 23 appearances to break the record of 19 held by Aaron Bilyeu in 1989. He held a 6.27 earned run average and compiled a 5-1 record on the mound in 56 innings. He struck out 43 batters on the year and gave up 23 walks and 29 extra-base hits. He held baserunners in check, allowing just one stolen base on four attempts.

Spiehs was most impressive down the stretch, posting wins over No. 4 Texas A&M in the Big 12 Tournament semifinals (5/22). In Nebraska's 8-7 win, he threw 4.2 innings, allowed five hits, two earned runs and had four strikeouts. He followed his performance to lead the Huskers to their first NCAA Tournament victory since 1985. He picked up the win in NU's 10-5 victory over Bowling Green in Columbus, Ohio, by not allowing a run in 5.2 innings of work. He gave up just seven hits, all singles, and struck out three batters. His totals for the postseason were impressive - 10.1 innings pitched, 12 hits, two runs and seven strikeouts.

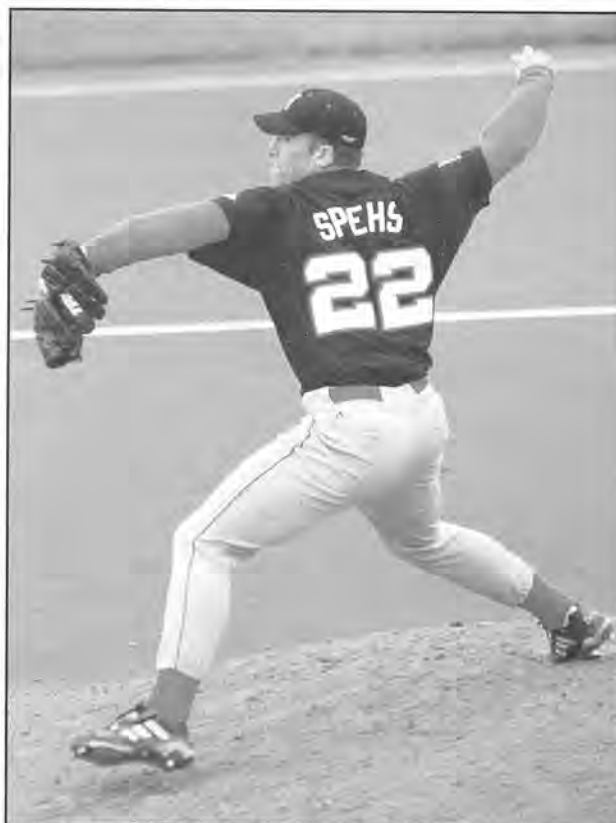

He also picked up two wins over Nebraska-Omaha and one over Creighton. His lone loss was a 5-3, 13-inning loss to Southern Illinois.

He struck out a career-high eight batters against Lamar (2/13) and earned his only save against Northern Iowa (5/11) after pitching 1.2 scoreless innings.

In his two starts, he held a 4.50 ERA, compared to his 6.65 ERA as a reliever. His best overall month was March, where he made four appearances, pitched six innings, had a 1.50 ERA and won his only decision.

Grand Island High School

Spiehs played catcher and saw extensive playing time as a pitcher for his American Legion team in Grand Island that won the state championship. He had a .388 batting average with 18 home runs and 79 RBI for Home Federal. On the mound, he was 9-4 with a 2.21 ERA and 96 strikeouts. He was coached by his father Randy, who was a catcher at Nebraska from 1969 through 1971. R.D. earned two letters in football for the Islanders. As a junior, he led the state with 17 home runs. He hit .376, posted a .686 slugging percentage and had 84 RBI. He also had 64 strikeouts in 64 innings.

Outlook

Adam Stern was one of 28 players from Canada selected in the 1998 Major League Baseball draft. Stern was a 22nd-round selection by Toronto, but he turned down the Blue Jays to play at Nebraska. Coach Dave Van Horn said Stern has a strong arm and can play all three outfield positions. He enters the season listed as the backup left fielder behind sophomore John Cole and the backup center fielder behind senior Jamal Strong.

An outstanding runner, he is solid defensively, but had an up and down freshman season at the plate. He provides the Huskers with a base-stealing threat and has power as well.

The coaches hope to develop him into a leadoff hitter with improved offensive skills. He worked hard in the offseason to become a better hitter by playing for Nebraska's semi-pro Beatrice Bruins under Coach Bob Steinkamp. He hit .367, stole 30 bases and was selected to the MINK (Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas) League All-Star game.

1999 (Freshman)

Stern hit .197 in his first season with the Huskers but got plenty of experience by playing in 38 games and taking 61 at bats. Stern started 12 games as a true freshman, including six during the Big 12 season. All of his starts came in the outfield (four in left, eight in right). For the year he had 12 hits, scored 17 runs, knocked in 12, and had four doubles, one triple and one home run.

He overcame an 0-for-13 start at the plate, to break out of his slump against Chicago State. In Nebraska's NCAA record 50-3 win, Stern nearly hit for the cycle, recording two doubles, a triple and a three-run home run. His homer against Chicago State scored the final three runs of the game, as he finished with six RBI. He had seven at bats in the game, a mark he later matched against Iowa State (4/18). In the Big 12 Tournament semifinals, he went 1-for-3 and scored one run against No. 4 Texas A&M. He went 2-for-2 against lefties last year.

He was also named an honorable-mention academic All-Big 12 selection.

St. Thomas Aquinas High School

Stern was a sprinter who earned four letters in track. He also played for the Ontario Bluejays, a select Connie Mack League team in the province. His 1998 summer statistics are not available, but in 1997, he had a tremendous year. He hit .492 with six home runs, 52 stolen bases, 79 RBI and 20 triples in 63 games. In 1997, Stern was the starting center fielder for the Canadian Under 17 National Team.

Outlook

Jamal Strong made an immediate impact for the Huskers last season after transferring to Nebraska from Citrus College. Strong established himself as one of the best baserunners in the Big 12 Conference, stealing a team-high 34 bases. The 1999 honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection can cover a lot of ground and will be counted on as the anchor to Nebraska's outfield as the starting centerfielder. Baseball America and Big 12 coaches tabbed Strong as the fastest base runner and the best defensive outfielder before the start of the 2000 season.

1999 (Junior)

Big 12 coaches selected Strong as an honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection after a solid junior season. Strong hit .346 as a starting outfielder, starting a total of 50 games (28 in center, 21 in left, one in right). He scored 66 runs, which was second on the team, and recorded nine doubles and tied a team high with four triples. He drew 26 walks compared to just 21 strikeouts and reached base in 48 of 53 games.

Strong finished second in the Big 12 with 14 stolen bases in league play and third in the conference with 34 stolen bases for the season, despite being slowed by a hamstring injury for part of the season. His 34 swipes was the most by a Husker since Ken Ramos had 34 in 1988 and the eighth-best total in school history.

Strong had one of his best games of the season in the NCAA Tournament against Mississippi State (5/28), reaching base six times on three singles and three walks. He took advantage of his opportunities to steal three bases in the game as well. He also stole three bases against Kansas (3/21) and Western Illinois (4/20). One of his other top performances came against Baylor's national player of the year, Jason Jennings, in the Big 12 Championship game. Strong singled and doubled off Jennings to lead the Huskers to a 4-3 victory.

In the field, he led NU outfielders with 110 putouts, committing just one error in 112 opportunities for the second-best fielding percentage on the team (.991). He finished the season with a 14-game hitting streak. For the year, he scored four runs on five different occasions, had 21 multiple-hit games and six multiple-RBI games.

Citrus College

Strong had two outstanding years at Citrus College, where he had a career average of .441, hitting in the top third of the lineup. As a sophomore, Strong had a .513 batting average with 98 hits in 180 at bats, including 36 RBI, 12 doubles, five home runs, three triples and 40 stolen bases. For his efforts, he was the Foothill Conference Player of the Year and was a two-time first-team all-conference selection. As a freshman, he hit .391 with 31 stolen bases, 22 RBI, seven doubles and three triples. He had a two-year total of 110 runs and 71 stolen bases. The Owls won the conference title both seasons Strong played for them. Following his freshman year, he was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 27th round.

Pasadena High School

Strong played five positions at Pasadena High School and earned nine letters in three sports. Three straight seasons, he was the team MVP and earned first-team Pacific League honors as a junior and a senior. His senior season he hit .405 with 20 doubles and 22 stolen bases. In 1996, Strong was drafted in the 33rd round by the Pirates. He was the league's football offensive player of the year in 1996.

Outlook

Brandt Vlieger (pronounced VLEE-ger) is expected to be the Huskers' starting third baseman this season after holding the starting shortstop position a year ago. Vlieger suffered a broken ankle running down a foul ball during the fall season, but the coaches are hopeful he will be ready to go by opening day.

Vlieger is a steady defensive player and provides the Huskers with a consistent offensive right-handed hitter in the lineup. He made the jump into the starting lineup last year after attending Grayson County Community College. He played for Nebraska's semi-pro Beatrice Bruins this past summer.

1999 (Junior)

Vlieger hit .348 in his first year for the Huskers (.357 vs. lefties, .345 vs. righties) and was a solid middle infielder, starting 55 games at shortstop. He played in 57 games and missed two games with an injured finger. For the year, he was third on the team in hits with 72 and finished with 10 doubles, three triples and four home runs. He also scored 48 runs and drove in another 41. He was a threat on the bases, stealing 16-of-20 attempts and was a model of consistency at the plate, reaching base in 53-of-55 games after opening the season with a 43-game streak.

Vlieger did the dirty work as well, drawing 24 walks while not grounding into a double play in 207 at bats. He also had five bunt base hits and led the team in sacrifice hits and sac flies. He was second on the team as he was hit by pitch eight times. Defensively, he was second on the team with 149 assists while holding a .923 fielding percentage at the game's most demanding defensive position.

In Nebraska's 16-3 win over Louisiana Tech, he homered twice in the game. Both dingers followed Ken Harvey home runs in the second and fifth inning. On three occasions he recorded four hits in a game. He stole three bases twice in two different games (KU, 3/21; OSU, 5/19). He supplied the game-winning RBI vs. Missouri in an 8-7, 11-inning victory. In Nebraska's NCAA record 50-3 win over Chicago State (3/16), he hit a two-run home run and finished the game with four RBI.

He had 12 multi-RBI games and was second on the team with 22 multiple-hit games. He hit .390 in non-conference games and hit .292 in Big 12 Conference games.

Grayson County Community College

Vlieger helped Grayson County advance to the Junior College World Series in 1998, where the Vikings went 1-2 and finished 47-19 overall. Vlieger earned first-team all-region and all-conference honors at shortstop his sophomore year. He hit .365 with 11 home runs, 59 RBI, 84 runs scored and a .566 slugging percentage. As a freshman, he had a .363 batting average with 10 home runs, 48 RBI, 58 runs scored and a .608 slugging percentage.

Millard North High School

As a senior at Millard North, Vlieger had a .561 batting average with six home runs and 44 RBI and earned all-state honors. He was also a first-team academic All-Metro selection. His high school coach was Ron Johnette.

Outlook

Chad Wiles is one of eight seniors on this year's squad but is the only senior to begin his career at Nebraska. Wiles has faced nearly 500 batters in his career and has made steady improvement each season. He is coming off his best year as a Husker, compiling a 5-1 record as a junior. He has an 8-4 career record and 85 strikeouts in 108 innings pitched. He will be the Huskers' No. 2 right-handed starter and will see valuable time on the mound in late innings. Nebraska's success will hinge on his consistency, 90 mph fastball and maturity on the mound.

"Chad is one of our most competitive pitchers," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said. "Last year he got a little tired down the stretch with a tender arm, but he picked us up big when it mattered most. This year we are looking for him to pick up where he left off."

1999 (Junior)

Wiles compiled a 5-1 record in 14 appearances and had the second-lowest ERA on the team, a 4.04 mark. He threw 49.1 innings and drew the start in six games. He finished the season with 46 strikeouts and 17 walks. After losing his first outing against San Diego State, he bounced back to win his last five decisions. He earned his first win in relief against No. 23 Oklahoma State (4/11) after retiring all seven batters he faced. NU won its next three games behind Wiles by a combined four runs, before picking up the biggest win of his career. Against No. 17 Oklahoma State in the Big 12 Tournament opener, he threw a complete-game one-hitter to hand OSU its first postseason shutout since 1976. He then closed out NU's Big 12 championship by earning his first career save in the title game against No. 9 Baylor.

Nebraska sported a 12-2 record in games Wiles appeared on the mound. He struck out a career-high 10 batters in a 5-4 win over Kansas State (5/14). He went 3-0 as a starter with a team-best 4.25 ERA, compared to a 3.66 ERA as a reliever.

Wiles began the 1998 season on a tear, winning his first three starts of the year. In his first start of the season, he threw seven strong innings against UW-Milwaukee, allowing only two runs on five hits and five strikeouts. In his next outing at Louisville, Wiles outdueled the Cardinals' Scott

Stauffer in a 1-0 nine-inning affair as the Huskers won on an unearned run. He struck out four and scattered six hits to improve to 2-0. It was the first 1-0 win for the Huskers since April 12, 1981 against Kansas. Against Cal Poly in Hawaii, Wiles pitched seven solid innings in a 7-3 win. He started against Kansas State on April 5 and pitched 4.2 innings. On April 11, he started against Texas A&M and pitched 7.1 innings, allowing seven runs. His other starts came in conference play against Oklahoma and Oklahoma State. His last appearance of the year was in relief against Texas.

1997 (Freshman)

Wiles made six appearances in 1997 and had one start against Hawaii in the Rainbow Easter Tournament. He pitched 2.2 innings against the Rainbows and allowed two earned runs and walked two before getting a no decision. In conference play, he made two appearances, allowing four earned runs with one walk and one strikeout. Overall, Wiles made six appearances in 1997 and had eight strikeouts. In two of those appearances he did not allow a run. His longest outing of the year was a three-inning performance against Kansas State.

Wood River High School

Wiles earned 11 varsity letters, four in football and track, and three in basketball. He followed former Husker great, Scott Frost, as Wood River's starting quarterback. Baseball was not offered at the high school, but he was all-conference as a pitcher for his American Legion team. He was named to the academic all-state team. He hit .310 his final year.

Outlook

Trevor Bullock enters his first and only season with the Huskers after four seasons with the University of Nebraska at Kearney. Bullock was granted an extra year of eligibility by the NCAA as a medical hardship for his freshman season.

He is a hard-throwing lefty and will see a lot of innings for the Huskers this year as either a starter or reliever. The Lincoln native played for the Beatrice Bruins semi-pro team last summer with several Husker teammates and even threw the league's first no-hitter since 1993 in a 10-0, five inning victory over the Edmond (Okla.) Mudcats. He was also a 1999 First-Team Pan-Am All-American on the National Baseball Congress World Series team. In three-plus seasons with the Lopers he struck out 168 batters in 172.1 innings under ABCA Hall of Fame Coach Guy Murray.

1999 (Junior)

Bullock was the ace for Division II Nebraska-Kearney and was named First-Team All-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference after leading the league, which used wood bats in 1999, with a 1.64 earned run average in 66 innings of work. He proved to be a durable pitcher, compiling a 5-5 record in nine starts and went the distance in eight of those contests.

His best performance was a one-hit, extra-inning (8) shutout over Southern Colorado, where he fanned a career-high 14 batters to pick up the 1-0 win. He held opponents to one or less earned runs in eight outings, but lacked run support in his five losses, as UNK was shut out twice and held to three combined runs in four of his losses.

He finished with double-figure strikeouts in back-to-back outings, fanning 12 against Metro State before his career-high performance of 14 against Southern Colorado.

1998 (Sophomore)

Bullock went 5-3 on the mound, making 11 appearances and eight starts. He had a 6.48 ERA and was one of three Loper pitchers to throw 50 or more innings. In 50 innings, he struck out a team-high 47 batters and walked just 22, as UNK finished with a 20-22 overall record.

1997 (Freshman)

Bullock had a great start and led the RMAC in ERA for the first half of the season, winning three of his first four decisions. He finished the season with a 6.67 ERA and a 3-5 record in 54 innings. He pitched two complete games and one shutout. He struck out 39 batters and led UNK pitchers with three pickoffs.

1996 (Freshman - Medical Redshirt)

Bullock missed much of his freshman season with an injury and made just two appearances on the mound. He pitched just 2.1 innings and finished with an 0-1 record. He was charged with the loss in UNK's 10-7 defeat to Cameron (Okla.) University. In that game he had two strikeouts, but gave up four earned runs on five hits and two walks.

Lincoln Southeast High School

A graduate of Lincoln Southeast, Bullock lettered three years in baseball and two years in football. He was named captain of the all-city baseball team and earned honorable-mention all-state honors as well. As a senior, he pitched a no-hitter to lead his team to the district finals.

#45 Andy Bent

Junior • RHP • 6-1 • 190 • R-R
Beatrice, Neb. (Beatrice/Cloud County CC)

Outlook: Andy Bent joins the Husker pitching staff after playing for Cloud County Community College the past two seasons. The Beatrice, Neb., native enters the season as the projected closer and will give the Huskers a hard-throwing pitcher out of the bullpen to shut teams down. "Andy will give us an aggressive power pitcher this season," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said. "He is experienced and has a great fastball between 88-92 mph."

Cloud County Community College: Bent went 5-4 for Cloud County last season. In nine starts, he pitched 51.1 innings and struck out 33 batters. He had a 7.50 earned-run average, but opponents only had a .268 batting average against him.

Beatrice High School: Bent attended Beatrice High School, which did not sponsor high school baseball.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Dec. 19, 1978. Wife: Kelly. Parents: Rick and Jeanne Bent. Brothers: Brian, 16, Brad, 13. Major: Health and Physical Education. Bent pitched for the semi-pro Beatrice Bruins this past summer.

#40 Jeff Blaesing

Freshman • RHP • 6-2 • 220 • R-R
Lockport, Ill. (Lockport)

Outlook: Jeff Blaesing's role for the 2000 season is in the air after having Tommy John surgery last February. He has worked hard to rehab and the coaches are hopeful he will be at full strength by midseason. He redshirted during the 1999 season due to his injury.

1999: Blaesing pitched in two games before having Tommy John surgery on April 12. He missed the 1998 season because of shoulder problems, but came back to make his first career appearance against Chicago State, May 17. In his two outings, he pitched 4.1 innings and gave up four hits and four earned runs, but struck out three batters.

Lockport High School: Blaesing had success both as a pitcher and an outfielder at Lockport High School. He lettered four seasons in baseball and basketball. His team finished second in the state in 1997 and was ranked in the top 30 in the country by USA Today. In his high school career, he hit .375 with 15 home runs, 30 doubles, 105 RBI, 100 runs scored and 140 hits. On the mound, he had a 25-5 record with 195 innings pitched and 219 strikeouts. He was an all-state selection by the Chicago Tribune as an outfielder. He tossed a no-hitter in the state quarterfinals with 17 strikeouts. Blaesing was all-conference in baseball and basketball in 1996 and 1997. On the basketball court, he is the sixth all-time leading scorer in Lockport history.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Nov. 17, 1978. Parents: Robert and Barbara Blaesing. Sisters: Kristine Keogh, 35, Lisa Bullard, 34. Brother: Greg, 19. Major: Construction Management. Blaesing played right field and was a utility player for Prairie Gravel, Ill., in the 1998 NBC World Series, in Wichita, Kan.

#19 Waylon Byers

Milo, Iowa (Southeast Warren)

Outlook: Waylon Byers has a good curveball with excellent movement and can throw in the upper 80s. He had an up and down fall, but the coaches are confident that he can make a difference on this year's pitching staff.

Southeast Warren High School: Byers was a two-sport standout at Southeast Warren High School and helped his team go 25-6 in Iowa's Class 1A and advance to the state tournament. He earned third-team all-state honors after going 6-1 on the mound with a 1.47 earned run average. He struck out an impressive 149 batters in only 80.1 innings pitched. As an outfielder, he hit .396 with five home runs and 32 RBI. Byers averaged 17 points per game for the Southeast Warren basketball team.

Personal Information: Birthdate: May 6, 1980. Parents: Barb and Jack Byers. Sister: Jacki, 12. Brother: Garrett, 21. Major: General Studies.

#30 Derrick Conte

Freshman • RHP • 6-1 • 200 • R-R
Oklahoma City, Okla. (Heritage Hall)

Outlook: Derrick Conte joins the Huskers this year, following fellow Oklahoman Steve Hale on the roster. Conte has worked hard to get in shape and the coaches have high hopes for him, but he will likely redshirt this season. He throws a heavy fastball and does a good job of throwing strikes and has a promising future in front of him.

Heritage Hall High School: A second-team Little All-City catcher selection by the Daily Oklahoman was also a standout pitcher. He was 4-2 with a 3.51 earned run average to lead his team to a 25-10 record. He ended his senior year in style as the Chargers won the Class 3A State Baseball Championship, the first baseball title in the school's history. His freshman season, Heritage finished just 2-22.

As a senior, he started 13 contests, throwing two complete games. He had 85 strikeouts in 61.1 innings. He also played catcher, outfield and first base. At the plate, he hit .370 with 44 runs batted in and three home runs. Two of his three home runs were grand slams that came in the same game.

Personal Information: Birthdate: March 21, 1981. Parents: Donald and Roseanna Conte. Major: Undecided.

#11 Nic Ewing

Freshman • IF • 5-9 • 155 • S-R
Rapid City, S.D. (Stevens)

Outlook: Nic Ewing is a recruited walk-on that will likely redshirt this season. He will give the Huskers their only switch-hitter in the lineup when he is ready to play. According to the coaching staff, Ewing will spend this season working with Nebraska's nationally renowned Husker Power strength staff to get bigger and stronger for next season.

Stevens High School: Ewing is a graduate of Stevens High School in Rapid City, S.D., where he lettered in basketball. He sported a career batting average of .351 for his American Legion team, scoring 356 runs, 65 doubles, 16 triples, 221 RBI and 12 home runs. He was also a consistent threat on the base path with 44 stolen bases. He was a two-time all-state second baseman and was the team's 1996 Rookie of the Year. His Legion team won two state titles in his career, advancing the Legion World Series in 1996 and 1998.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Jan. 21, 1981. Parents: Bill and Nancy Ewing. Brothers: Jesse, 21, Kyle, 16. Major: Undecided.

#18 Aaron Gozart

Freshman • Catcher • 5-9 • 188 • R-R
Aberdeen, Wash. (Aberdeen)

Outlook: Aaron Gozart, a true freshman from Aberdeen, Wash., is projected as the backup catcher for the Huskers. The coaches are excited about his potential after a solid fall where he added 15 pounds. He has a lot of experience as a receiver and will likely relieve senior Justin Cowan, a fellow Washingtonian, by starting mid-week games and playing in the late innings.

Aberdeen High School: Gozart was a two-sport athlete at Aberdeen High School playing baseball and football for the Bobcats. On the gridiron, Gozart rushed for more than 1,000 yards in his junior and senior seasons. A three-year baseball letterman, he was named to the all-state team and was named the MVP of the North Rivers League. As a senior, he hit .535 with 11 doubles, four home runs and 10 stolen bases in 20 games. He was first-team all-league as a junior and senior and was also the North Rivers League Offensive MVP in football.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Dec. 9, 1980. Parents: Alan and Gail Gozart. Brothers: Jonathan, 21, Benjamin, 15. Major: Undecided. Gozart played summer baseball for the Centralia Fullers under Head Coach Marc Roberts.

#5 Josh Hesse

Junior • IF • 5-11 • 175 • R-R
Omaha, Neb. (Millard North/Meridian [Miss.] CC)

Outlook: Josh Hesse (pronounced HESS-ee) is one of the top additions on this year's squad and is the projected starting second baseman against left-handed pitchers, after playing for Meridian [Miss.] Community College. Hesse returns home after graduating from Omaha Millard North High School in 1997. A versatile infielder, he can play second, shortstop or third base and will be a regular in the lineup against left-handed pitchers.

Meridian Community College: Hesse led Meridian CC to the NJCAA regional tournament last spring and a 37-18 record. The Eagles qualified for the Junior College World Series in 1998. A two-time Miss-Lou All-Conference second baseman, he hit .330 as a sophomore with five home runs in the two spot. As a freshman, he hit .350 and belted seven homers.

Millard North High School: Hesse was named first-team all-state by the Omaha World-Herald in 1997 after earning all-metro and all-division honors. He hit .438 as a senior with 15 stolen bases and one home run, leading Millard North to the state semifinals in 1996 and 1997.

Personal: Birthdate: Feb. 13, 1979. Parents: Richard and Deborah Hesse. Sisters: Jacque, 20, Andrea, 18. Brother: Chris, 25. Major: Political Science. His brother Chris, played baseball for the Huskers in 1994.

#16 Matt Hopper

Freshman • 1B/3B • 6-4 • 210 • R-R
Morrison, Colo. (Bear Creek)

Outlook: Matt Hopper redshirted last season because of hernia surgery, but recovered to be the most improved player on the team, according to the coaching staff. He has gained almost 25 pounds since signing with the Huskers and has become a contender for some serious playing time. He hits with authority and is slated to play first base but could also see time at third base. He is a solid defensive player and has a shot at playing every day against left-handed pitchers. As a pitcher, he has a good arm and his fastball is in the upper 80s.

1999: Redshirted at Nebraska.

Bear Creek High School: Hopper had a 6-3 record with a 3.30 earned run average as a senior with 86 strikeouts. At the plate, he had six home runs and 27 RBI and was an all-state designated hitter, while hitting .490. As a junior, he finished the year with an 11-3 mark and a 2.97 ERA with 79 strikeouts as his team finished third in the state. He hit .380 with 10 home runs, and 35 runs batted in. In his sophomore year, he dominated on the mound going 8-1 with a 1.86 ERA and 52 strikeouts. He earned academic all-state honors three times, twice in baseball and once in golf.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Nov. 6, 1979. Parents: Rich and Ketha Hopper. Sister: Erin, 17. Major: Business Administration.

#15 Dan Johnson

Coon Rapids, Minn. (Blaine/Iowa Western)

Outlook: Dan Johnson is a big, strong left-handed hitter that will give the Huskers a power hitter in the lineup to make up for the loss of All-American Ken Harvey. A transfer from Iowa Western, Johnson is also a first baseman and will battle for full-time position. He will most likely be a starter against right-handed pitchers.

Prior to Nebraska: Johnson attended Butler (Ind.) University as a freshman, where he was an all-conference selection in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference. As a sophomore, he was an all-region selection at Iowa Western in Council Bluffs, Iowa, after leading the region in home runs (18), RBI (65), slugging percentage (.883) and walks (37). He also hit .356 and had 11 stolen bases.

Blaine High School: Johnson played hockey and baseball in high school, where he was an all-state pick in both sports.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Aug. 10, 1979. Parents: Ron and Linda Johnson. Brother: Andy, 16. Major: Marketing.

#12 Jeff Leise

Freshman • OF • 5-9 • 165 • L-L
Omaha, Neb. (Creighton Prep)

Outlook: Jeff Leise is a true freshman who will back up Adam Shabala in right field. He could contribute a lot as a freshman and even platoon in the outfield.

According to Coach Dave Van Horn, Leise is going to push the upper classmen because of his great speed. "He's going to be a big part of our program," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said.

Creighton Prep High School: Leise was a first-team all-state selection as an outfielder his junior and senior seasons. As a junior, he was sixth in the state with a .477 batting average, the best among underclassmen. In 30 games, he had 41 hits in 86 at bats and scored 31 runs. He also had 35 RBI, six triples, seven home runs and 15 stolen bases. He played summer ball for the Omaha Bluejays.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Sept. 18, 1980. Parents: Bob and Colleen Leise. Sisters: Jill, 20, Kim 12. Brothers: Scott, 17, Ben 15. Major: General Studies.

#34 Thom Ott

Sophomore • RHP • 6-3 • 200 • R-R
Nassau, Bahamas (Greenbrier Christian Academy/
James Madison University)

Outlook: A transfer from James Madison University, Thom Ott will sit out this season as a redshirt, but the coaches are excited about his future in the program. He was drafted out of high school in the 25th round by the Pittsburgh Pirates but opted to attend James Madison. He is a power pitcher and has been clocked at about 90 mph. He had some control problems during the fall, but overall he has outstanding movement on his pitches. He is a native of Nassau, Bahamas, but attended Greenbrier Christian Academy in Virginia.

Prior to Nebraska: Ott attended James Madison and made 16 appearances as a freshman for the Dukes. He started 11 games and earned 10 decisions, posting a 2-8 record with a 7.80 ERA. In 57.2 innings, he struck out a team-high 74 batters and allowed just two home runs (one per 28.7 innings). He allowed 42 walks and had 22 wild pitches. His two wins came against Indiana-Purdue and William and Mary as James Madison finished with a 22-35 record.

Greenbrier Christian Academy: Ott had an outstanding prep career at Greenbrier Christian Academy in Virginia Beach, Va., leading his team to back-to-back state titles in 1997 and 1998. A two-time honorable-mention All-American, he was named the Gatorade Circle of Champions Virginia Player of the Year and was the Virginian Pilot Spring Season Athlete of the Year as well. An all-state selection as a junior and senior, he was all-state at Camden County High School in Camden, N.C., as a sophomore. He was a four-year all-area and all-conference selection and lettered four years in baseball, three years in basketball and two years in football.

Personal Information: Birthdate: March 28, 1980. Parents: Curtis and Ruth Ott. Brother: Mike, 21. Ott played summer ball for the Harrisonburg Turks under Paul Hewitt, the head coach at the University of New Mexico. Ott and his family moved to Nassau, Bahamas following his high school graduation.

#39 Justin Pekarek

Freshman • LHP • 6-3 • 190 • R-L
Staplehurst, Neb. (Seward)

Outlook: Justin Pekarek (pronounced peck-ARE-ek) is a walk-on for the Huskers and will redshirt the season to gain another year to develop. He has worked hard in the offseason to gain 15 pounds and will try to learn from a talented left-handed NU lineup.

Seward High School: A three-year star for his American Legion team in Seward under Head Coach Steve Nesbitt. Pekarek had an outstanding final season, pitching 68.1 innings and giving up just 33 earned runs (3.38 ERA per seven innings). He allowed just one home run all season and struck out 88 batters. He went 5-5 on the mound with one no decision. At the plate, he hit .405 and belted 11 homers. He was also a state qualifier in golf and lettered in basketball.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Dec. 4, 1980. Parents: George and Rose Pekarek. Sisters: Jaci, 28, Jodi, 23, Jenee, 20. Major: Undecided. Pekarek's home town of Staplehurst has a population of 250 people. He enjoys rebuilding Honda three-wheelers in his free time.

#25 Brent Potter

Freshman • RHP • 5-11 • 200 • R-R
 Runnells, Iowa (Southeast Polk)

Outlook: Potter will miss the entire 2000 season after having Tommy John surgery on Jan. 4. As a true freshman, he started vs. San Diego State and threw 2.1 innings, giving up six hits and three earned runs. He missed the rest of the season with shoulder problems. When healthy, he can consistently throw the ball in the upper 80s and low 90s. He is mentally tough and the coaches are hoping he can rebound to contribute for the Huskers.

Southeast Polk High School: Potter had a tremendous season for Southeast Polk High School in the summer. He earned all-conference and all-state honors with a 0.92 earned run average and 107 strikeouts in 60 innings. He had two no-hitters and three one-hitters his senior year. As a junior, he was 3-4 with a 1.90 ERA and 60 strikeouts in 44 innings pitched. He was coached by Eric Sickels. Potter earned three letters in baseball and two in football. He pitched and played third base.

Personal Information: Birthdate: March 23, 1980. Parents: Mike and Deb Potter. Sister: Andrea, 9. Brother: Brad, 18. Major: Undecided.

#14 Adrian Rider

Freshman • RHP • 5-8 • 162 • R-R
 Omaha, Neb. (Omaha Westside)

Outlook: Rider joins the Huskers after an outstanding senior season at Omaha Westside High School. One of eight freshman pitchers, Rider will try to battle for time on the mound and give the Huskers some valuable innings. He has an 83 to 86 mph fast ball and a good breaking ball that should help him earn playing time. "He's a very competitive pitcher," Head Coach Dave Van Horn said. "He throws strikes, which will keep him in the ball game. He didn't pitch in the fall, so he's a little behind. But he'll still get a chance to pitch."

Omaha Westside High School: Rider led Omaha Westside to a state championship and a 23-5 final record as a senior. He was a first-team all-state selection by the Omaha World-Herald after posting a 6-2 overall mark with a 2.57 ERA. In 57.1 innings pitched, he had 62 strikeouts, fourth most in the state. He was the winning pitcher in the first of two championship games against two-time defending champion Papillion-LaVista in the double-elimination state finals. He played summer ball for Grubb & Ellis/Holmes Freight under coach Bob Greco and led the team to a state runner-up finish.

Rider was also a two-time all-conference free safety and led the state in interceptions through the regular season with five as a senior. He was a two-time all-conference punter, and he also competed in diving.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Oct. 23, 1980. Parents: Rick and Alison Rider. Sister: Megan, 15. Brothers: Aaron, 22, Andrew, 10. Major: Undecided.

#33 Jamie Rodrigue

Freshman • LHP • 6-0 • 200 • R-L
 St. Clair, Mo. (St. Claire)

Outlook: Husker coaches are looking for freshman Jamie Rodrigue (pronounced ROD-reeg) to make an immediate impact this season as one of the top lefties on the NU pitching staff.

Rodrigue was a dark horse in Nebraska's recruiting class as many college coaches and professional scouts didn't see him throw until the state tournament. He can consistently hit between 85 and 88 mph, with his best pitches being his fastball, curveball, and change-up. If he's needed, he also has the talent to play offense, but will likely focus on his pitching this season.

He should see plenty of innings for the Huskers as a starter and the team's second-best lefty during the preseason.

St. Clair High School: Rodrigue had a superb senior season for St. Clair, compiling a 10-3 record and leading the team to a third-place finish at the state tournament. He carried a 1.25 ERA, striking out 138 batters and walking just 20 in 80 innings of work to hold opponents to a .150 hitting. At the plate, he was just as dangerous, hitting .523, recording 12 home runs, 50 RBI and going 6-for-7 on stolen base attempts. He was named first-team all-state as a DH/utility player and first-team all-metro and all-conference as a pitcher. He played Legion ball for Union Post, Mo.

Personal Information: Birthdate: April 29, 1981. Parents: Robert and Jeannette Rodrigue. Brothers: Dereck, 21, Dana, 15. Major: Undecided. Rodrigue chose Nebraska over Florida, Missouri, Kansas and Kansas State.

#10 Dan Wright

Junior • IF • 5-11 • 195 • R-R
 St. George, Utah (Dixie/Dixie [Utah] CC)

Outlook: Dan Wright is another outstanding addition to this year's team. Wright joins the Huskers after earning NJCAA First-Team All-America honors as a sophomore. He is a talented hitter and will either start at first base or designated hitter. He will hit in the middle of the order and should produce runs in the heart of the lineup. He was drafted out of high school by the Atlanta Braves in the 46th round.

Dixie Community College: Wright earned NJCAA First-Team All-America honors after hitting .443 and cranking out 21 home runs and 86 RBI. He led Dixie CC to an eighth-place national finish in 1998. In 1999, his team was ranked second, but lost in the playoffs.

Dixie High School: Wright led Dixie High School to the 1997 state title after hitting .420 with six home runs and 28 RBI. He earned first-team all-region and first-team all-state honors and was named the Region 9 MVP. A three-sport athlete, he also competed in football and basketball and earned first-team all-region honors on the gridiron.

Personal Information: Birthdate: Aug. 21, 1979. Wife: Mindi. Parents: Ron and Marie Wright. Brothers: Ron, 23, Russ, 21, Joe, 17, Ray, 15. Major: Finance. Dan's brother Ron plays for the Pittsburgh Pirates AAA team.

2000 Big 12 Baseball Tournament

May 17-21 at Oklahoma City

Southwestern Bell Bricktown Ballpark

Division One

Division Two

*Game 13 will be necessary if the winner of Game 9 also wins Game 11.

*Game 14 will be necessary if the winner of Game 10 also wins Game 12.

*If both bracket winners are undefeated after Game 12, there will be two games Saturday and the championship will be Game 13.

Last season's Big 12 postseason baseball tournament in Oklahoma City set an NCAA conference tournament attendance mark of 129,334 for 13 games after expanding from six to eight teams in 1999.

This year is the fourth season the tournament will be played in Oklahoma City and the third year the tournament will be played at the beautiful 13,066 Southwestern Bell Park in Bricktown in downtown Oklahoma City.

An all-time NCAA mark of 129,334 ticket purchasers flocked to the park for the 13-game tournament in 1999 to give the Big 12 a three-year total of more than 295,000 fans – also a national standard.

In 1997 the six-team Big 12 Tournament drew a nation's-best total estimated attendance of 56,742 (49,684 paid). Fox Sports Southwest and several Fox Sports affiliates have carried six Big 12 tournament games throughout most of the nation on cable via live broadcast or tape delay since 1997.

For ticket information, suites, box seats, sponsorships, and other information about the eight-team, May 17-21, Big 12 postseason tournament, please contact: Oklahoma City All Sports Association, Attn: Bob Jarvis, 100 West Main, Suite 285, Oklahoma City, OK 73102. Phone: (405) 236-5000. Advance all-session books are available at discounted rates. All-session general admission seating is $40, while reserved seating is $60 and box seats are $80.

Big 12 Conference ... Creating a Legacy

Kevin Weiberg
Commissioner

One of the nation's most prolific conferences, the Big 12 maintains its leadership role in academic, student life, competition, sportsmanship and compliance areas within the NCAA framework.

Dedicated to achieving the highest goals in the integration of academic and athletic endeavors, Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech combined forces on February 25, 1994, to forge the Big 12 Conference, one of the most powerful alliances in NCAA competition.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in its classrooms and its stadiums. In all, conference institutions have received accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, Big 12 teams have accounted for 159 national team championships-143 NCAA and 16 wire service football titles-while its student-athletes have claimed more than 900 NCAA crowns entering the 1999-2000 academic year.

The formation of the Big 12 represented an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve higher levels of performance heading into the 21st Century.

Institution chancellors and presidents serve as chief policy makers for the conference, operating as the Board of Directors. Administration of the circuit occurs through the Council of Faculty Athletics Representatives, Board of Athletic Directors and Board of Senior Woman Administrators. Kevin Weiberg began his tenure as the Big 12's second full-time commissioner on Dec. 4, 1998. Weiberg already has made great strides in Big 12 governance, organization and finance.

The Big 12 took a bold step toward community service in May, 1996, by adopting Special Olympics as its primary philanthropy. Other charitable and community service organizations, such as the Lou Groza National Collegiate Place Kicker Award, NCAA YES Program and Best Buddies, to name a few, have the sponsorship of the conference. Member-institutions have provided facilities for local, regional and national Special Olympics competition for years, but under the Big 12 blanket, Special Olympians, their coaches and their fans have the opportunity to interact as recipients of clinics and other cooperative efforts in conjunction with Big 12 events. In August, 1996, Executive Directors of Special Olympics in the seven-state area and Big 12 officials decided to promote the national movement through public service announcements aired to all 50 states and overseas markets during Big 12 football and basketball games and on the weekly "Big 12 Showcase" television program.

Another innovative venture of the Big 12 is the Life Skills Program and Academic Services. Programs such as the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Special Olympics and the YES program of clinics and stay-in-school messages to youngsters are a few of the life skills areas promoted by the Big 12. Student-athletes play an active role in community endeavors such as hospital visits, youth school programs, enhance/eligibility information and anti-violence campaigns promoted through local appearances and public service announcements.

Exposure is key in any endeavor of this magnitude, and the Big 12 has one of the best regional and national telecast agreements in the nation. ABC and Fox Sports Net combine to produce nearly 40 football games annually in syndicated, regional, national and prime-time windows. The Big 12 blankets television on the Friday after Thanksgiving with back-to-back national grid telecasts of Texas-Texas A&M and Colorado-Nebraska.

ESPN and ESPN Regional provide regional over-the-air syndication, national cable and national network coverage of up to 90 men's basketball games per season. The Big 12 is a mainstay in the ESPN lineup with the highest rated college basketball slot on "Big Monday." In addition to the highly successful syndicated package within the seven-state conference region, ESPN Regional markets 10 games annually to CBS and ABC for the Big 12. All 11 games of the Big 12 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament are aired either regionally or nationally. Fox Sports Net relies on Big 12 supplied programming of regular-season volleyball and women's basketball while televising nearly 30 events per year. Big 12 championships also have a home at Fox Sports Net. At least eight Big 12 Olympic championships are televised on either a regional or national cable basis, and Fox Sports Net boasts one of the best weekly collegiate programs in the 39-installment "Big 12 Showcase." ESPN ventures into the mix by promoting and televising an annual Big 12 women's basketball challenge and will air the 2000 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament title game.

In all, packages with ABC, Fox Sports Net and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through the year 2000 (2003 with ABC for football television) and $159 million to member institutions.

The Big 12 hit the field with Oklahoma claiming the inaugural conference title in softball on May 11, 1996. Big 12 football kicked off in grand fashion as Kansas State defeated Texas Tech, 21-14, on Aug. 31, 1996, in Manhattan, Kan. Texas edged Nebraska, 37-27, in the first Dr. Pepper Big 12 Football Championship Game to allow the conference to gain two Bowl Alliance berths.

The Big 12 utilizes a North-South divisional format in football, with the two Oklahoma schools and the four Texas schools making up the Big 12 South and the remaining six schools complete the Big 12 North. The champions of each division face each other in an electric showdown in early December to determine the Big 12 representative to the Bowl Championship Series. Thanks to the high level of competition, the Big 12 was the only conference with two teams participating in the alliance in 1996 and 1997, and Nebraska clinched the national title in the ESPN/USA TODAY football poll on Jan. 2, 1998, with a 42-17 victory over Tennessee in the FedEx Orange Bowl. In addition to the alliance, the Big 12 has five other bowl agreements with the Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl Classic, Culligan Holiday Bowl, Sylvania Alamo Bowl, Insight.Com Bowl and Sanford Independence Bowl.

Eleven Big 12 schools, Baylor, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech, compete in baseball. The 2000 Championships will again take place at Southwestern Bell Park in Bricktown in downtown Oklahoma City, Okla., on May 17-21, 2000. The Huskers, won last year's Big 12 Tournament, knocking off three top-25 opponents.

In 1998-99, the 21 regular-season championship trophies were divided among 10 schools. Texas won the Big 12 all-sports title by capturing nine trophies (men's basketball, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field, men's and women's swimming and diving, and men's and women's tennis). Nebraska (volleyball and women's gymnastics), Texas A&M (football and baseball) and Oklahoma (wrestling and softball) each captured two Big 12 titles, while Baylor (soccer) Colorado (men's cross country), Kansas (men's golf), Kansas State (women's cross country), Oklahoma State (women's golf) and Texas Tech (women's basketball) each claimed single conference crowns.

Men's programs regulated by the conference include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor/outdoor track and field, swimming and diving, tennis, and wrestling. Big 12-regulated women's programs include basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor/outdoor track and field, soccer, softball, swimming and diving and tennis.

History/Future of the Big 12 Baseball Tournament

1996-97	Oklahoma City, Okla.
1997-98	Oklahoma City, Okla.
1998-99	Oklahoma City, Okla.
1999-00	Oklahoma City, Okla.
2000-01	Oklahoma City, Okla.
2001-02	Arlington, Texas
2002-03	Oklahoma City, Okla.
2003-04	Arlington, Texas
2004-05	Oklahoma City, Okla.

The Big 12 Conference has approved sites for the 2001-2005 Phillips 66 postseason baseball tournaments, including the first foray into a major league ballpark.

The conference extended Southwestern Bell Bricktown Ballpark in Oklahoma City for the 2001 season in addition to the current year 2000 contract. However, in 2002 the site will move for the first time to the Ballpark in Arlington (Texas), before returning to Oklahoma City in 2003 and 2005. The Ballpark in Arlington will again serve as host in 2004.

The commitment to The Ballpark in Arlington is the first endeavor by a major NCAA Division I Conference into a major league ballpark. In moving the tournament to the home of the Texas Rangers, the Big 12 will expose its student-athletes and fans to one of the top facilities in professional sports. In addition, the Southwestern Bell Bricktown Ballpark in Oklahoma is widely considered the finest Triple-A stadium in the country.

The 2002 Phillips 66 Big 12 Championship at The Ballpark will be the first conference postseason tournament ever held at a Major League Baseball facility. Previously, the NCAA held regional tournaments at Arlington Stadium (since demolished) in 1976-78 and at the Astrodome in Houston. The 49,166-seat Ballpark in Arlington, constructed in 1994 and host site for the Major League All-Star Game in 1995, is regarded as one of the nation's finest baseball facilities.

Big 12 baseball tournaments at Oklahoma City in All Sports Stadium (1997) and Southwestern Bell Bricktown Ballpark have been graced by over 295,000 fans for 35 games in from 1997-99. The 1999 Big 12 diamond tourney set a NCAA baseball record with total attendance (tickets sold) of 129,334 for 13 contests during a conference meet.

Big 12 teams from this conference have captured 159 all-time national championships and have won 10 NCAA team titles since the Big 12 was conceived in Feb. 25, 1994.

Year in Review

Van Horn Leads Nebraska to First Conference Title in 50 Years

Second-year coach Dave Van Horn took just 15 months to accomplish what it took the Nebraska baseball program 50 years to attain -- winning a conference title.

In a marvelous season-ending run, the Huskers defeated powerhouses No. 17 Oklahoma State, Oklahoma, No. 4 Texas A&M and No. 9 Baylor to win the Big 12 Conference Tournament in Oklahoma City, marking the school's first baseball title since the Big Seven Championship in 1950.

In a year filled with memorable moments, the Huskers capped the season by playing in their first NCAA Regional since 1985. Nebraska went 1-2 at Columbus, Ohio, to end the season 42-18, its best record in the 1990s. The Huskers lost twice to Mississippi State and eliminated Bowling Green (10-5) in NU's first regional trip in 14 seasons.

Spearheading the charge throughout the 1999 season was first-team All-American first-baseman Ken Harvey. Harvey provided a rare combination of power and consistency, becoming the first Husker to win the NCAA batting title with a .478 batting average. He also hit 23 home runs, breaking the school record of 21, which was set in 1988 by Bobby Benjamin. Harvey was honored for his defensive efforts as well, and was named the 1999 NCAA Division I Easton Redline Defensive Player of the Year after committing just one error in 447 chances. He was a finalist for every national player-of-the-year award at the conclusion of the season.

Nebraska started the season 4-5, as a group of 19 newcomers tried to blend with 11 returnees from Van Horn's first team. The Huskers then got hot after finding the right mix, winning 16 of their next 17 games.

En route to returning to the national polls for the first time since 1988, the Huskers won two of three games at Oklahoma, swept three games at Kansas, marking the first-ever Big 12 Conference road sweep by NU. The Huskers kept their torrid pace by setting three NCAA records in a 50-3 win over Chicago State on March 16 at Buck Beltzer Field. The 50 runs marked an NCAA Division I best, as well as 48 runs batted in and margin of victory (47) in a game that was called after seven innings.

Nebraska sported a 17-6 record, including an eight-game winning streak, heading into a home series with No. 8 Texas. Nebraska opened the series in dramatic fashion, rallying from a 2-0 deficit to hand the Longhorns an 11-4 loss, vaulting the Huskers into first place in the Big 12 standings. In the second game, Nebraska allowed a two-out grand slam in the top of the first inning, only to have right fielder Justin Cowan answer with his own two-out grand slam in the bottom of the first. Nebraska then crawled out of an 8-4 hole to win the game, capped by a game-winning RBI single in the bottom of the ninth. Nebraska carried its momentum into the final game for a 12-8 win to complete the sweep of the Longhorns in front of a school-record 3,387 fans.

Nebraska was slowed slightly in April, compiling a 10-9 record for the month, but notched two wins over College World Series participant Oklahoma State. In the third game of the series, sophomore third baseman Danny Kimura belted a grand slam in the bottom of the eighth to key the 6-2 win.

Nebraska also won two of three against Iowa State and lost a 6-5, 16-inning decision, despite a school record 16 strikeouts in relief from freshman pitcher Shane Komine, who was later named the Big 12 Freshman of the Year and a Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball.

After final exams in early May, the Huskers got their swings back in gear. NU won two of three against Southern Illinois, and following a 5-3, 13-inning loss, the Huskers went on a tear winning nine straight games.

In midweek games, Nebraska defeated Northern Iowa 10-7 and beat Creighton in front of a crowd of 6,735 at Rosenblatt Stadium, 10-9, as senior Jay Sirianni earned his first career save.

Erik Mumm capped his career by earning GTE/CoSIDA First-Team Academic All-America honors.

Huskers Post First NCAA Tournament Season Since 1985

Jarod Bearinger compiled a 3-1 record and made 22 appearances in 1999.

Nebraska closed out its home and conference seasons with a three-game sweep over Kansas State to finish the year in fifth place in the Big 12 with a 16-9 mark. The Huskers were tough at home, posting a 24-5 record in the confines of Buck Beltzer Stadium.

Nebraska carried its momentum into its first-ever game in the Big 12 Tournament as junior right-hander Chad Wiles tossed a one-hit shutout in a 5-0 win over No. 17 Oklahoma State. For Wiles it was the second shutout of his career and the first in Big 12 Tournament history. It also marked the first postseason shutout in school history for Oklahoma State.

The next day, the Husker offense led the way in a 14-7 win over Oklahoma. Senior Jarod Bearinger earned the win throwing 6 2/3 innings, his longest outing of the season.

Nebraska continued its success at the Bricktown Ballpark holding on to beat fourth-ranked and Big 12 regular-season champion Texas A&M, 8-7, to advance to the championship game. Trailing 3-0, the Huskers broke the game open, scoring six runs in the third inning against the Aggies. A&M trimmed the lead to 6-5, before Harvey hit a solo home run and John Cole scored to put NU ahead 8-5. In the bottom of the ninth, R.D. Spiehs, who pitched 4 2/3 innings of relief to get the win, gave way to freshman All-American Shane Komine. Komine struck out Chad Hudson with the tying run at third to end the game.

In the championship game against ninth-ranked Baylor, Nebraska took a 4-0 lead after the second and led 4-2 entering the eighth before junior Scott Fries allowed an RBI double to National Player of the Year Jason Jennings. With the Bears trailing 4-3, and the tying run at second with no outs, Van Horn called on Wiles to get NU out of the eighth. In the ninth, Wiles got two quick outs before Anthony Hensley reached on an error and Jon Topolski walked. Eric Nelson followed with a rising line drive to left field, but Cole leaped up and made a snow-cone catch to preserve the Big 12 title for the Huskers. The catch set off a wild celebration in left-center field as the Huskers earned their first conference title in almost 50 years.

The win gave the Huskers an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament and its first postseason appearance since 1985.

In the first game of regionals at Bill Davis Stadium in Columbus, Ohio, Nebraska played two-time defending CWS qualifier Mississippi State. The Huskers led 8-6 after four innings, but No. 18 MSU erupted for 12 runs in the final five innings to hand NU its first loss in 10 games.

The Huskers rebounded the next day, defeating Bowling Green, 10-5. Spiehs earned the win after holding the Falcons scoreless through 5 2/3 innings. Nebraska pounded out 15 hits, including four by junior shortstop Brandt Vlieger. NU trailed 5-2 after five innings, totaling eight runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth.

In the Huskers' second elimination game of the tournament and second contest against Mississippi State, Jim Bailey homered for the second time in the regional, but the Bulldogs pounded 17 hits against three Nebraska pitchers in a 13-7 Mississippi State win.

Nebraska's success did not go unnoticed, as the postseason awards came rolling in after the season. Harvey was named a First-Team All-American from three different publications and was one of three finalists for the Rotary Smith Award and the Golden Spikes Award, which are both given to college baseball's top player. Harvey was later drafted in the fifth round by the Kansas City Royals as the 151st selection, while catcher Brian Johnson went in the 24th round as the 721st pick, also to the Royals. Sirianni signed a free-agent contract to play in the Cleveland Indians organization.

Komine was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection, along with junior outfielder Jamal Strong and senior Jeff Hedman.

Off the field, several Nebraska athletes were honored for their academic accomplishments, including senior outfielder Erik Mumm, who was named a GTE/CoSIDA First-Team Academic All-American, the first in the history of the NU baseball program to earn first-team honors. Mumm and four other athletes garnered first-team academic All-Big 12 honors.

Although the year ended with a loss at regionals, Van Horn and the Huskers set the tone in 1999 for a strong and successful future for the Nebraska baseball program.

Ken Harvey, center, led Nebraska to one of its most exciting seasons in school history that included winning the Big 12 Tournament championship, the Huskers' first league title since 1950.

Nebraska junior All-American first baseman Ken Harvey ended his Husker baseball career with the greatest offensive season in school history. Harvey, a native of Los Angeles, led the country in hitting throughout the 1999 season and locked up the NCAA batting crown with a .478 mark. He also was the main power source for NU with a school record 23 home runs.

A career .426 hitter, Harvey lifted the Huskers to unprecedented heights as NU won the Big 12 Conference Tournament title, the school's first baseball crown of any kind since 1950. Nebraska advanced to the NCAA Regionals for the first time in 14 years thanks to Harvey's offensive and defensive efforts.

The Easton Redline Defensive Player of the Year ended his career on a 15-game hitting streak, the third time he had a hit streak of more than 10 games during the 1999 season. On the year, Harvey had all-around impressive numbers, finishing with 107, 77 runs, 86 runs batted in, 193 total bases, an .862 slugging percentage, 38 walks, 13 steals, a .558 on-base percentage and a .996 fielding percentage. He hit safely in 52 of 57 games, had 34 multiple-hit games, including five times when he recorded four hits in a game. In 24 contests, Harvey had more than one RBI, including a career-best six against Creighton.

A Look Back at the Longest Game in NCAA History

Twenty-Six Years Ago, Nebraska and Colorado Played the Longest Game in NCAA History

When Nebraska and Colorado finally ended the 22-inning marathon on April 26, 1974, everyone knew that it had been one long day at the ballpark. The game was the first game of a doubleheader and was scheduled for seven innings. However, the two teams played the longest game in NCAA history. While the effort was tied by Houston and Baylor on Feb. 21, 1999, the game is still ranks among collegiate baseball's best with only eight other games lasting 20 or more innings.

In addition, national records for at bats by individuals (10 by Jim Smith, Nebraska and Jay Sfera, Colorado) and by a team (CU's 78) were set along with total at bats (155) and CU plate appearances (88) and total plate appearances (175). All of the records set that day are still current among NCAA Division I schools.

Nebraska struck out a total of 23 times (only one short of the record) and missed its best chance to win in the 20th inning when right fielder Norm Glisman led off with a triple. After Doak Fowler struck out and Dick Anderson was intentionally walked, second baseman Ken Bauder missed the squeeze bunt sign and Glissman was cut down at the plate. After CU scored in the top of the 22nd, Buffalo pitcher Bob Kelly struck out the side to end the nearly five-hour endurance test. Randy Benish was the losing pitcher for Nebraska.

Colorado took a 1-0 lead in the fourth before the Huskers tied the game in the fifth when Bryant Akisada hit a home run to left off Mark Beaton.

A Look Back at the Highest Scoring Game in NCAA History

Last year, Nebraska broke three NCAA records by scoring 50 runs in a win over Chicago State

Nebraska made headlines across the nation last season after posting the most lopsided win in NCAA baseball history at Buck Beltzer Stadium. On Tuesday, March 16, NU players and coaches took part in an amazing contest, that had reporters and coaches calling from across the country to see if the score was correct.

After defeating Chicago State, 15-3, in game one of a double-header, the Huskers opened the second game of the twinbill by scoring nine runs in the first inning. That was just the beginning as Nebraska went on to win by a score of 50-3, setting three NCAA records in the process. The Huskers set NCAA marks for runs scored, margin of victory and RBIs.

"We never expected something like that to happen today," NU Coach Dave Van Horn said following the win. "To be part of the team that scored 50 runs is kind of a shock."

The previous NCAA Division I mark for runs in a game was held by West Chester, Pa., who scored 41 against Philadelphia Textile on April 7, 1992. The previous margin of victory was 41 set in the West Chester game, as the Golden Rams defeated Philadelphia Textile 42-1, and Georgia Tech in a 41-0 win over Earlham (Ind.) on March 21, 1975.

The 48 runs batted in by Nebraska shattered the NCAA Division I mark for runs batted in a game. The previous best was 37 by West Chester against Philadelphia Textile and by Clemson against North Carolina State on April 6, 1979.

Nebraska scored nine runs in the first, 10 in the second, four in the third, nine in the fourth, 13 in the fifth, and five in the sixth as the game was called in the seventh inning because of the 12-run rule.

Eight Huskers belted nine home runs in the game. Including two by junior Ken Harvey, and the first career home runs for Scott Larsen, Adam Stern and Brian Kent.

Besides setting school team records for runs (50), RBI (48) and hits (35), Harvey and senior first baseman Craig Moore each established or tied individual school records. Harvey and junior Jim Bailey scored seven runs in the game to break the school record of six set by four players. Moore became the third player in school history to drive in 10 runs in a game. The 10 RBI were a Buck Beltzer Stadium record.

Bailey, who only had two official at bats, walked five times to tie a 50-year-old school record. Tom Novak held the previous mark of five set against Denver College on April 18, 1949.

On the day, Harvey was awesome as he had four home runs, 10 runs batted in, nine runs scored and a double. In the game, Nebraska scored the first 23 runs before the Cougars had a base runner, as Husker pitchers retired the first nine Cougar hitters. Eleven Huskers had at least two hits and seven had at least three hits.

Senior Jay Sirianni earned the win over the Cougars pitching to six batters in the first two innings.

Cliff Faust

Game Summary: After plowing his way through Kansas' first 20 batters, (and having only four hit the ball out of the infield) senior pitcher Cliff Faust must have thought he was seeing his perfect game slice away. The Jayhawks' Dick Lewallen came to the plate with two outs in the seventh (and final inning) and promptly hit a sinking line drive into left field. But left fielder Joe Scherger made a diving grab to save Faust's perfect game. Outside of Lewallen's game-ender, no other Jayhawk made a serious bid to reach base.

Huskers in the Major Leagues

Bob Cerv (1947-50)

1951-62; Kansas City Athletics, Los Angeles Angels, Houston Astros, Kansas City Royals

Bob Cerv's most productive year in the majors was in 1958. While playing for the Kansas City Athletics, Cerv belted 38 homers, a mark which still stands as the record by a professional player in Kansas City. He was the first Husker to participate in an All-Star Game. He started the 1958 All-Star Game in left field for the American League. He went 1-for-2 and had a single off Warren Spahn in the first inning. In his career, Cerv tallied 105 homers – including 12 pinch-hit homers – and hit .267 while playing on four World Series teams with the Yankees.

Dwight Siebler (1957-58)

1963-67; Minnesota Twins

Dwight Siebler, a native of Columbus, Neb., made his major league debut on Aug. 26, 1963 and pitched five seasons for the Minnesota Twins. He pitched 38.2 innings as a rookie and had a career-best 2.79 ERA, striking out 22 batters in seven games. He went 2-1 as a rookie in five starts and held opponents to a .182 batting average. His next two seasons he combined for 26 innings in 16 games before making 23 appearances and pitching 49.2 innings in 1966. That season, he went 2-2 with one save and had 24 strikeouts. Through five major league seasons, he had a 4-3 record, one save and a 3.45 ERA in 117.1 innings of work. He finished with 71 strikeouts and allowed just 97 hits and 44 walks.

All-Star Huskers

Bob Cerv, 1958 Kansas City Athletics
Tim Burke, 1989 Montreal Expos
Darin Erstad, 1998 Anaheim Angels

Stan Bahnsen (1965)

1968-83; New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox, Oakland Athletics, Montreal Expos, California Angels, Philadelphia Phillies

Stan Bahnsen, who competed at Nebraska in 1965, was the 1968 American League Rookie of the Year after compiling a 17-12 record with the New York Yankees and striking out 162 batters for a 2.05 ERA. A native of Council Bluffs, Iowa, he finished with a career record of 146-149 with 20 saves and an ERA of 3.60. Bahnsen pitched in 574 games and had 1,359 strikeouts with six different major league teams, including a career-high 162 in his second season. He recorded 100 or more strikeouts for seven straight seasons (1968-74) and posted double-figure wins six times, including a 21-16 record with the White Sox in 1972. He also had an ERA of 3.60 in 43 games that year. He ended his 16-year major league career in 1982 with the Philadelphia Phillies having pitched 16 shutouts and 73 complete games.

Gary Neibauer (1965-66)

1969-73; Atlanta Braves, Philadelphia Phillies

Gary Neibauer played five seasons in the major leagues from 1969-73. He played four seasons with Atlanta, before spending the end of the 1972 season with the Phillies. He retired after completing his career in 1973 with the Braves. The right-handed pitcher saw action in 75 games throughout his career, including 29 as a rookie. He compiled a 4-8 career record and earned one save in 148.2 innings of work. He had 81 career strikeouts and a 4.78 career ERA. He had a career-best 2.14 ERA in 1971, when he went 1-0 with one save in six games. At the plate, he hit his only career home run in his final season.

Ryan Kurosaki (1971-73)

1975; St. Louis Cardinals

Ryan Kurosaki, a native of Honolulu, Hawaii, pitched one season in the majors for the St. Louis Cardinals. He made his major league debut on May 20, 1975 and pitched in seven games that season. He worked 13 innings and had a 7.62 ERA and did not earn a decision. The right-handed pitcher had six strikeouts in his seven outings.

Pete O'Brien (1978-79)

1982-93, Texas Rangers, Cleveland Indians, Seattle Mariners

Pete O'Brien called it quits after his 11th-year as a professional baseball player in 1993. O'Brien spent the first six years of his career with the Texas Rangers. He then played with the Cleveland Indians for a season and spent the final four years of his career as a member of the Seattle Mariners. O'Brien was called up to the Rangers in late 1982 and never spent another day in the minor leagues. He finished his career with a .261 average and hit 169 home runs. He had 1,421 hits, 736 RBI and 654 runs scored in his major league career. His best season came in the 1986 season with the Rangers when he hit .290, had 160 hits, 23 home runs and 88 RBI.

Tim Burke (1978-80)

1985-92, Montreal Expos, New York Mets, New York Yankees

Nebraska great Tim Burke played in the big leagues for 10 years before retiring in 1994. Burke spent most of his career with the Montreal Expos. He pitched six years with the Expos. In 1989, he recorded 28 saves, a 2.52 ERA and had a 9-3 record for Montreal. He was selected to participate on the National League All-Star team that season. Two years earlier in 1987, Burke was almost untouchable. He was 7-0 with a 1.19 ERA in 55 games and 91 innings. For his career, he had a record of 49-33 and played in 498 games. He made two starts his entire big league career. He finished with 444 strikeouts and an ERA of 2.72.

Steve Stanicek (1980-82)

1987, 1989; Milwaukee Brewers, Philadelphia Phillies

A native of Lake Forest, Ill., Steve Stanicek played two seasons in the major leagues. He played for the Milwaukee Brewers in 1987 and then returned in 1989 to play for the Philadelphia Phillies. He played in 13 games in those two seasons and went 3-for-13 for a .188 batting average, scored two runs and had one RBI.

Bob Sebra (1981-83)

1985-90; Texas Rangers, Montreal Expos, Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds, Milwaukee Brewers

Bob Sebra played for six major league teams in his professional career. Sebra began his baseball career with the Montreal Expos. After a 5-5 rookie season, Sebra was 6-15 the next year.

He spent two seasons with Montreal and was 11-20. He finished his playing career having appeared in 94 games and had a record of 15-29. Sebra had a career ERA of 4.71, two shutouts and 281 strikeouts in 366.2 innings pitched. He finished his career with the Milwaukee Brewers at the conclusion of the 1991 season, after playing for the Expos, Texas Rangers, Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs.

Bill McGuire (1983-84-85)

1988-89; Seattle Mariners

Bill McGuire played two seasons for the Seattle Mariners, seeing action in 23 games during the 1988 and 1989 seasons. He went 8-for-23 at the plate (.182), scored three runs, drove in six and hit his only career home run in 1989. A native of Omaha, Neb., he made his major league debut on Aug. 2, 1988.

Kip Gross (1986)

1990-93, 1999; Cincinnati Reds, Los Angeles Dodgers, Boston Red Sox

Kip Gross, a native of Gering, Neb., played four years in the major leagues. He was called up by the Cincinnati Reds in 1990, made five appearances and threw 6.1 innings. In his second season with the Reds he made a career-high 29 appearances, throwing 85.2 innings and posting a 6-4 record. He started nine games that season, had a 3.47 ERA and pitched one complete game. He was a reliever for the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1992 and 1993. During his four major league seasons, he made 71 appearances, threw 143.1 innings, struck out 64 batters and had a 3.70 ERA.

Ken Ramos (1987-89)

1997; Houston Astros

Ken Ramos, who played for the Huskers from 1987 to 1989, pitched one season in the major leagues, playing for the Houston Astros in 1997. That season, he played in 14 games, drew two walks and scored one RBI. He was 0-for-14 at the plate.

Kevin Jordan (1990)

1995-Present; Philadelphia Phillies

Kevin Jordan played in 120 games for the Philadelphia Phillies last season. Jordan, a 20th-round pick by the New York Yankees after playing at Nebraska in 1990, hit .285 playing third base for the Phillies. He has been with the Phillies since 1995 and played in 383 games in his five-year career with the club. He has 17 career home runs, with four of those coming in 1999. Jordan owns a .981 career fielding percentage. A career .273 hitter, Jordan has 262 hits, 126 RBI, 99 runs scored and 49 doubles in his 383 games with the Phillies.

Marc Sagmoen (1992-93)

1997; Texas Rangers

Marc Sagmoen made major league history in his debut with the Texas Rangers on April 18, 1997. Sagmoen became one of just four players to get an inside-the-park home run for his first hit, sparking Texas to a 5-1 win and its first ever sweep at Kansas City. But that wasn't all. Sagmoen was sporting a randomly assigned No. 42 on his jersey and became the last player to wear it in Major League Baseball, as baseball retired the number that same night to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the start of Jackie Robinson's career. Sagmoen played in 21 games that season, going 6-for-43 at the plate for a .140 batting average. He recently signed a minor league contract with the Houston Astros after spending the 1998 and 1999 seasons with the Rangers' AAA affiliate Oklahoma City.

Darin Erstad (1992-93)

1996-99; Anaheim Angels

Darin Erstad was the No. 1 overall pick in the 1995 amateur draft by the Anaheim Angels and quickly established himself as one of baseball's brightest young stars by being named to the 1998 All-Star Team. He hit .296 with 82 RBI and 84 runs scored in his all-star season. He played first base in the American League's win, going 0-for-1 at the plate, with a walk, a run scored and an RBI. His jump to the major leagues came after only one year in the minors. Erstad hit .284 with four homers and 20 runs batted during 57 games as a rookie in 1996. In 1997, he landed the Angels' starting first base job. He finished the season with a .299 average and 16 home runs. In 1998, Erstad played in 133 games and hit .296 with a career-best 19 home runs and 82 RBI. For a complete look at his NU and major league career, see page 97.

“The University of Nebraska prepared me for life. Not only on the field, but off it as well.”

--- Darin Erstad

Darin Erstad, the No. 1 overall pick in the 1995 amateur draft, has put his name among the select group of stars in the major leagues. Erstad's fourth season in the majors was a successful one, playing in a career-high 142 games and holding a .253 batting average for the Anaheim Angels. Erstad, a 1998 All-Star, is the third Husker to earn such honors. He hit .296 with 82 RBI and 84 runs scored in his all-star season. He played first base in the American League's win, going 0-for-1 at the plate, with a walk, run scored and an RBI. His jump to the major leagues came after only one year in the minors. Erstad hit .284 with four homers and 20 runs batted during 57 games as a rookie in 1996. In 1997, he landed the Angels' starting first base job. He finished the season with a .299 average and 16 home runs. In 1998, Erstad played in 133 games and hit .296 with a career-best 19 home runs and 82 RBI.

Congratulations! As a Husker baseball fan, you can get quality steaks AND help the Huskers in their drive for a second straight Big 12 championship. The state of Nebraska is well known for its abundance of top quality corn fed cattle. Corn fed beef has the best marbling and flavor. That's why Nebraska's Famous Steaks is in the perfect location to distribute these high quality, flavor filled steaks. All of our steaks are naturally aged 21 to 28 days for the best taste and tenderness. These steaks are then hand trimmed for portioning, vacuum packed and flash frozen to seal in flavor for your enjoyment.

Our vision at All American Meats is to make sure your dining experience is enjoyable, affordable and a great value for you, your friends and customers. This is why we guarantee your complete satisfaction! If for any reason you are not pleased with your order, Nebraska's Famous Steaks will replace your order or refund your money. It's your choice and without condition.

Remember, there are no "mistakes" with a Nebraska's Famous Steak.

Best Regards,

Shawn Buchanan

President,

NU Outfielder, 1988-91

NOTE: The Huskers began conference play in the Missouri Valley Conference in 1919 and played in the conference until 1925. The Huskers then became a member of the Big Six Conference in 1929. The Big Six Conference expanded to the Big Seven in 1948 with the addition of Colorado. In 1958, the conference expanded again with the addition of Oklahoma State. For 22 years, all Big Eight teams carried baseball until Colorado dropped its program. From 1981 through 1996 the league consisted of seven teams. In 1997, the Big 12 Conference was formed by adding Texas, Texas A&M, Texas Tech and Baylor. Eleven of the Big 12 teams support baseball, Colorado does not.

Nebraska

NU Baseball Success

A Team on the Rise

The Thrill of Victory

Nebraska proved it was ready to rank among the nation's top programs last season by compiling a 42-18 record and winning the Big 12 Conference Tournament in 1999. Nebraska went 12-6 last year against teams that qualified for the NCAA Tournament last year.

Head Coach Dave Van Horn

Nebraska coach Dave Van Horn begins his third season in the Husker dugout. In 11 years as a junior college, NCAA Division II and NCAA Division I coach, he has posted 437 career wins and a .701 winning percentage.

Helping the Community

Nebraska baseball players play a big part in shaping the community. For the past nine years, Husker players and coaches have participated in a Paint-A-Thon as well as visiting local elementary schools.

Home Park Advantage

The Huskers went 24-5 at Buck Beltzer Stadium last season, including a 5-1 mark against ranked teams. Nebraska swept a three-game series from No. 8 Texas last season and took two out of three games from No. 23 Oklahoma State. Nebraska is 11-4 at home against top-25 teams under Head Coach Dave Van Horn.

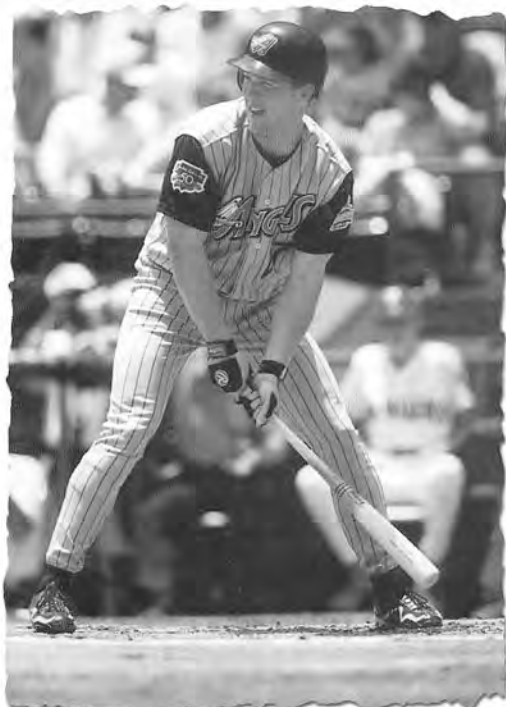

Pipeline to the Major League

Huskers Boast 15 Major Leaguers

Kevin
Jordan

Jordan has spent the last four seasons playing for the Philadelphia Phillies. He has played third, second and first in the past four seasons.

Darin Erstad

Darin Erstad, the No. 1 draft pick in the 1995 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft, became the third Husker to play in an All-Star game in 1998. Last season, Erstad played in 142 games, scored 84 runs, had 53 RBI, and hit 13 homers.

Pete
O'Brien

O'Brien played 11 seasons in the Major Leagues after a stellar career at Nebraska in the late 70's and early 80's. O'Brien played for the Texas Rangers, Cleveland Indians and Seattle Mariners before retiring in 1993. In the majors, he had a career batting average of .261 with 169 home runs while collecting 1,421 hits.

Stan
Bahnsen

Pitcher Stan Bahnsen spent 16 years in the major leagues, the most by any former Husker player. In 1968, he was the American League rookie of the year and in 1972, he earned a career-best 21 wins while playing for the Chicago White Sox. He had a career record of 146-149 with an earned-run average of 3.61.

Academic Achievement

Nation-Leading 168 GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans

Nebraska's Academic Facts

- ◆ Nebraska has the highest number of first-, second- and third-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in the nation with 168, 54 more than any other school. Nebraska has seen 96 of those earn first-team honors, including 19 since 1990.
- ◆ Husker student-athletes have earned 13 NCAA Today's Top Eight Awards, more than any other school. Under Coach Tom Osborne, the Nebraska football team had nine honorees, the most of any individual sport in the nation.
- ◆ Husker athletes consistently top the academic all-conference list. Last season, the Nebraska baseball had five selections. Over the past three seasons, 15 Huskers have claimed academic All-Big 12 honors.
- ◆ The Nebraska program received the Champs/Life Skills Program of Excellence Award in 1998-99 as presented by the Division I-A Athletic Directors. Nebraska was one of seven schools to earn the honor in recognition of a comprehensive and successful life skills program for all student-athletes.
- ◆ Nebraska has been tabbed one of 36 flagship universities and is considered one of the best values among the nation's colleges and universities by the Center for Studies in College Enrollment.
- ◆ Nebraska student-athletes who continue with graduate school received more than $76,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 1998.

Academic All-America Tradition

Entering 2000, Nebraska has had 168 GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports, which leads the nation. Nebraska's total is 54 more than second-place Notre Dame's 114, and is more than double fifth-place UCLA's 80.

Academic Success

The success of Nebraska athletes is not limited to the athletic arenas. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America team than athletes from any other school in the country, and more Huskers have earned academic all-conference honors than athletes from any other conference school.

No school has had more athletes receive the NCAA's highest award, The Today's Top Eight, than Nebraska. Husker athletes also have been awarded the third-highest number of NCAA postgraduate scholarships to help further their educations.

Awards and Honors

NCAA Today's Top Eight Award

The most prestigious honor a student-athlete at an NCAA member institution can win is the Today's Top Eight Award. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is proud to claim it has had more student-athletes win this award than any other school. Grant Wistrom became the ninth Husker football player and NU's 13th recipient of the prestigious Today's Top Eight Award in 1997.

GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America Teams

Since 1952, sports information directors have selected academic All-America teams from qualified student-athletes representing eight different sports.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln has had more male and female student-athletes selected as academic All-Americans than any other school in either the University or College Divisions.

As of Jan. 2000, the University of Nebraska has seen a total of 168 student-athletes earn this distinction, 54 more than second-place Notre Dame's 114. NU also leads the nation in first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans with 96.

Academic All-Conference

Nebraska has established itself as the dominant school in the Big 12 for academic excellence, consistently placing more athletes than other schools on that list. Since 1997, 15 Nebraska baseball players have earned academic All-Big 12 Conference honors, including five student-athletes in 1999.

"To offer an academic support program integrated with the campus that will assist all student-athletes with the transition into college and continued support in all phases of academic and professional development culminating with graduation, job placement or graduate school."

Statement of Philosophy, University of Nebraska
Academic Programs & Student Services

Athletics & Academics

Along with earning first-team academic All-America honors and helping Nebraska to its first ever Big 12 Tournament championship in 1999, Nebraska's Erik Mumm was a four-time academic all-conference selection and a three-time GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-District honoree.

The Nebraska Academic Experience: Three Steps to Success

With an enrollment of nearly 25,000 students, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln offers an environment rich in academic tradition. Faculty members at Nebraska have long been recognized for serving students with excellence, distinction and a level of expertise matched by few.

There are nine academic colleges at the University of Nebraska, and each offers a variety of disciplines for students to select. The colleges are: Agriculture, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Human Resources and Family Science, Journalism and Mass Communications, Teachers College and Fine and Performing Arts.

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal support, academic support and professional development to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers.

Professional Development Counseling at NU

1. Career Exploration

Knowing that less than 1 percent of all collegiate athletes advance to professional sports, Nebraska pioneered a comprehensive Career Counseling Program for student-athletes in 1988. This program has been modeled by many other NCAA institutions and is now a component of the NCAA Life Skills Program.

The exploration phase has programs designed to help with career selection and clarification. These programs include: interest inventories, DISCOVER (an interactive computerized career guidance program), monthly career nights, career fairs, shadowing experiences, internships and cooperative education.

2. Career Planning

An important aspect of preparing for a career is the teaching of job-development skills. At Nebraska, methods are taught to improve these skills, including resume development, cover-letter writing, job search strategies, interviewing skills, and graduate, law and medical school placement assistance.

3. Career & Graduate School Placement

Assistance is provided in securing full-time employment upon graduation. Both the University Career Services office and Alumni office play an instrumental role in the placement process. Guidance is also provided for those with plans for graduate education. Student-athletes have access to graduate career fairs, test preparation, applications workshops and postgraduate scholarships.

Advancements In Learning

The Hewit and Boekel Academic Centers house Nebraska's academic counselors. A newly expanded 51-terminal computer lab located in the Hewit Center shows Nebraska's commitment to keeping up with advancements in learning and technology. In 1996, Nebraska received the CFA Special Recognition Award for its high graduation percentage.

Academic Support

Setting the Standard for Student-Athlete Academic Support Systems

Educational Assessments	Tutorial Support	Supplemental Instruction	Academic Supervision	Computer Resources
During new student-athlete orientation, the academic staff administers a variety of educational assessments to student-athletes to better determine academic strengths and areas for improvement. The results help counselors and athletes to develop a personalized academic support team.	One of Nebraska's largest and perhaps most beneficial support services for student-athletes is the Tutorial Program. Mentor tutors and subject tutors assist student-athletes in making successful transitions into college, while experiencing academic success.	A sub-component of the tutorial program, this program is effective in helping student-athletes get adjusted to college academics, while enhancing academic self-esteem and study skills.	In order to monitor the academic and graduation progress of Husker student-athletes, the counselors dedicate extensive time toward academic supervision. Counselors receive periodic grade reports from faculty, and various study hall and class attendance programs are in place, all for the benefit of the student-athletes.	State-of-the-art software programs in the newly expanded Hewitt Center 51-terminal computer lab allow students to become more efficient and productive. The lab features a combination of IBM and Macintosh computers complete with laser-jet printers. Students can also access laptop computers for extended away competitions.

Multi-Cultural Support

Student-Athlete Advisory Board

Husker Outreach Program

The Hewitt Center coordinates an annual New Student-Athlete Orientation program aimed at helping student-athletes experience a smooth transition into college life.

Student-athletes receive expert education and intervention regarding personal and social issues. Campus administrators, national experts and former student-athletes share information and insights to assist student-athletes in making responsible decisions. During the 1998-99 year, Nebraska was one of seven schools to receive the Program of Excellence award in recognition of creative and comprehensive Life Skills programming efforts.

Counseling staff members provide student-athletes with a supportive and caring environment. Areas addressed within personal counseling include: transitional issues, stress management, academic focus and personal crisis intervention. Referrals are also made to professionals at the University Health Center.

This program is designed to enhance cultural awareness for all student-athletes to help build a supportive, caring environment while learning about different cultural backgrounds.

Student-athletes from every sport meet regularly with athletic department administrators in order to be included on all decisions affecting their personal, academic and professional development. The Board was recognized by College Athletic Management magazine as the top student organization in the nation and has been a model for many other universities.

Involvement in the award-winning Husker Outreach Program gives Husker student-athletes the opportunity to make a positive impression on youth, while the student-athletes further develop their own leadership and interpersonal skills. Through Ventures in Partnership activities, National American Education Week, and the annual "School is Cool" Jam sessions, more than 100,000 youth statewide hear motivational and inspirational messages.

Academic Honors

Nebraska athletes have earned an NCAA-leading 168 GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America awards. The honors are proudly displayed in the academic center, where student-athletes enjoy the best academic support in the nation.

"One of the most impressive characteristics of Nebraska's academic support system is that counselors are not only there to support you, but they will go the extra mile to make sure that every student-athlete excels and becomes the best they can possibly be."

Nebraska's baseball and softball fields, which are currently located in the center of campus, are scheduled to move into brand new facilities for the 2001 and 2002 seasons.

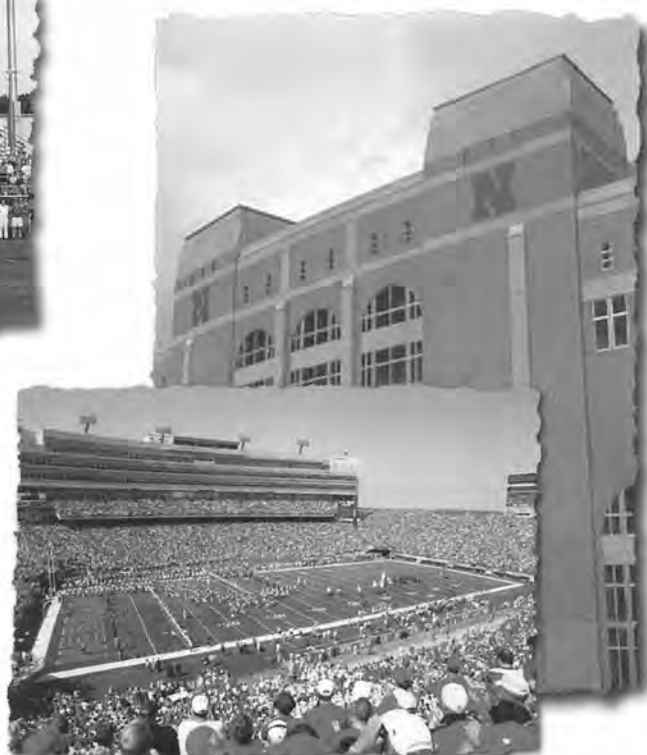

Abbott Sports Complex

The Nebraska soccer team plays its home matches at the Abbott Sports Complex. The field has room for 2,500 people and has hosted NCAA Soccer Tournament matches in each of the past four seasons.

Sapp Recreation Center

Nebraska's $17 million Lee and Helene Sapp Recreation Center, one of the best in the nation, provides university students and staff with the latest in recreational equipment.

Memorial Stadium

Fans have filled the Memorial Stadium stands for an NCAA-record 233 consecutive sellouts. During the sellout streak, NU has recorded a 207-26 record. The latest renovations have come with the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes 42 skybox suites, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, new media facility and renovated concourses.

Bob Devaney Sports Center

The Home of the Huskers

Bob Devaney
(1915-1997)

Bob Devaney Sports Center

Named after NU's longtime football coach and athletic director, the 13,500-seat Bob Devaney Sports Center is the home to Husker men's and women's basketball, gymnastics, swimming and diving, track and field and wrestling teams. The Devaney Center has hosted numerous NCAA postseason events since its opening in 1976.

Husker Fans

A school-record 3,387 fans pushed through the turnstiles at Buck Beltzer Stadium on March 28, 1999 to see Nebraska complete a three-game sweep over the eighth-ranked Texas Longhorns. It also marked a school record for attendance in a three-game series, as Nebraska drew a total of 7,229 fans for the series. For the year, Nebraska attendance was up an average of 160 percent from the previous season.

Devaney Center Facilities

In addition to the main arena, the Bob Devaney Sports Center also houses a recently renovated weight room that is used by Nebraska athletic teams for strength and conditioning workouts.

Nebraska Athletic Facilities

Building for the Future

Joint Effort

Lincoln Mayor Don Wesely and Head Coach Dave Van Horn discuss the new stadium plans on July 30, 1999. The University of Nebraska will spend more than $10 million toward the new facility, including at least $3 million toward softball, while NEBCO will better than $6.1 million and the City of Lincoln will finance $5.9 million. The remaining $3.2 million will be financed from parking revenue bonds and other city-determined sources.

"Our new stadium will help us keep the Midwest's top athletes here – that's big. Our players deserve to play in a top facility. It will be a fan-friendly environment and it should improve our fan base and attendance. It will give fans the opportunity to make it a weekend adventure to come to Lincoln and watch a Big 12 series."

Not Just A Pretty Face

- The University of Nebraska baseball offices will move from their current location to the site of the yet-to-be-named stadium. The complex will also feature laundry facilities, large locker rooms, a player's lounge, training room and weight room. The training room will have a hot and cold whirlpool along with an examining room.
- One of the complex's top features will be an indoor practice facility which will allow the Nebraska baseball team to field an entire defense on the astroturf field during inclement weather. It will have four batting tunnels, pitching mounds and will allow Husker coaches to work on defensive, baserunning and infield drills throughout the year.
- Husker players will use big-league style, heated dugouts, complete with bat and helmet racks, a storage room and a rest room.
- As of press date, the field was also slated to have a tunnel giving Husker players a secure path leading from the NU locker room to the dugout.

Coming Soon

The University of Nebraska, the City of Lincoln and NEBCO, Inc., are combining in a joint effort to build a $30 million baseball and softball complex for the Husker baseball and softball teams and a Northern League baseball team. That new 4,500-seat stadium, will be one of the top college baseball facilities and is scheduled to open for the 2001 season.

Joint Effort

Despite already having one of the top athletic facilities in the country, Nebraska Athletic Director Bill Byrne has continued to strive to make the University of Nebraska the number one choice for the college recruit. Since his arrival, millions of dollars have been spent on upgrading Memorial Stadium, the Bob Devaney Sports Center, the Nebraska Coliseum, the Ed Weir Outdoor Track Stadium and the Abbott Soccer Complex.

Fan Support

Fan Support Vaults NU to New Success – Nebraska fans pushed through the turnstiles in 1999, leading the Huskers to a 24-5 home record. Nebraska will look to carry that success into its new home after posting a winning season in each of Buck Beltzer Stadium's 21 seasons. Through 21 years, Nebraska has an all-time record of 479-129 at home, including a 37-9 record in two seasons under Head Coach Dave Van Horn.

Fan-Friendly, With the Latest Technology

- The playing field will feature the latest technology in field maintenance as it will have an air-heated underground system, allowing grounds keepers to grow grass year-round.
- The complex will be one of the top 10 college baseball facilities in the country. It will have 18 skybox suites, giving a luxurious view for baseball during Nebraska and Northern League games.
- Fans will be able to watch Husker baseball games with a fantastic view in any part of the stadium, including upper-deck club seats, bleacher seating or even on the grass burms on the first- or third-base sides. The 76,000-seat Memorial Stadium will provide a scenic backdrop behind centerfield. Parents can also entertain their children during the game by playing in a special family area, complete with a playground.
- Nebraska's media representatives will cover the game from one of the top press facilities in college baseball. The press box will have more than 50 seats for working media, including three radio/television booths. The press box can also be converted to include a club lounge to entertain guests for special events.

Husker Power

The Nation's Model Strength Program

Supervision

Nine full-time strength and conditioning specialists provide year-round strength training supervision.

The Strength Complexes

In 1990, Nebraska unveiled a 30,000 square-foot strength training facility that has set the standard for weight rooms across America. Located under Memorial Stadium's west wing, the strength complex (above left) is one of the nation's largest and finest. The spacious Devaney Center weight room (inset left) provides athletes who practice in the Devaney Center with the nation's newest and finest equipment.

Husker Power: Three Reasons For Success

- 1. Program - The Husker Power strength and conditioning program is individualized for each athlete. The Performance Buffet enhances performance as does the motivation and visualization program.
- 2. Supervision - The Athletic Performance Team combines nine full-time strength and conditioning specialists and two certified nutritionists. The Performance Team provides a wide range of services to help athletes prepare for a successful athletic career.
- 3. Facilities - The Nebraska Strength Complex is recognized as the finest in the country. The Husker Power facilities include the Bob Devaney Sports Center weight room and Bob Devaney indoor track weight room. The Performance Buffet is also nationally recognized for improving the performance of Nebraska athletes. The Wayne Meylan room is used for supplements and for body composition testing.

With 14 full-time members, eight graduate assistants, 11 student staff positions and four consultants, Nebraska's Performance Team is one of the most intricate strength and performance organizations in the nation. Since 1974, more than 31 universities and 14 professional teams have hired former NU assistants who worked under Boyd Epley.

Husker Power: Four Steps To Success

- 1. Test Performance Indicators - Testing can point out what components athletes have weaknesses with and an exercise program can then be formulated that concentrates on the weak areas.
- 2. Evaluate - After the athletes are tested they are evaluated in comparison to other athletes at their position using the Husker Power Performance Index.
- 3. Setting Goals - Once the athletes know where they rank compared to other athletes, realistic goals are set for the athletes to work toward.
- 4. Husker Power Program - The goals are reached through the Husker Power Program, one of the most successful in collegiate football history.

Performance Buffet

Because NU strives to build a solid base for health and recovery from training with a diverse, nutrient-rich meal plan, the Performance Buffet plays a large part in developing the athlete.

Nebraska Athletic Medicine

On the Cutting Edge

Medical Facilities

The newly remodeled medical facilities at Nebraska are among the best in the country. The Huskers' training facilities are located in the George Sullivan Athletic Medicine Center in South Memorial Stadium, the NU Coliseum and the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

Nebraska Athletic Medicine Staff

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers and Associate Director of Athletic Medicine and Head Athletic Trainer Jerry Weber, the Nebraska Athletic Medicine staff consists of five doctors, two therapist/trainers, four athletic trainers, six graduate assistant certified athletic trainers and 22 student assistant trainers. Overall, the 38 members of the medical staff provide individual care and rehabilitation supervision for more than 700 Husker student-athletes.

The Colleges of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts & Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering & Technology, Fine & Performing Arts, Human Resources & Family Sciences, Journalism & Mass Communications and the Teachers College offer 145 undergraduate and 119 graduate programs leading to career opportunities in the arts, the sciences, the humanities and the professions.

University Of Nebraska |

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration. The University of Nebraska includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. A long-time member of the Association of American Universities and a Carnegie Research I University, UNL is Nebraska's land-grant university and its major comprehensive institution of higher education.

Attractions |

The University of Nebraska campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery (left) and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and the Lied Center for Performing Arts. The University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection and maintains research sites such as Ashfall Fossil Beds State Park. Students enjoy the new Broyhill Fountain (above), located on city campus. The fountain is north of the renovated Nebraska union. A $13.5 million union renovation project was completed in June of 1999.

Research

The $30 million George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research provides a new focus for research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and chemical engineering and related fields.
